

The background of the entire image is a detailed nautical chart of the state of Florida. The chart features a grid of latitude and longitude lines, with various depth soundings and navigational markers. A prominent yellow rectangular box with a slightly distressed, torn-edge appearance is centered over the middle of the state. Inside this box, the title and author's name are printed in a bold, blue, serif font. The title is split into two lines, and the author's name is on a third line. The map itself shows the outline of Florida, with major water bodies like the Gulf of Mexico to the west and the Atlantic Ocean to the east. Various coastal features and inland waterways are also visible, though the text is somewhat small and difficult to read in many places.
