The Trouble in Room 519 Thomas Aiello, 2021-08-18 At approximately seven o'clock in the evening on May 7 1950 Gordon Malherbe Hillman filled an empty bottle with water capped it and walked into his mother's room in the pair's fifth floor suite at Boston's luxurious Copley Plaza Hotel He then edged up behind the semi invalid woman and bludgeoned her to death Hotel staff had planned to evict the two the following day after several weeks of unpaid rent Mounting debts had finally broken the fifty year old Hillman a now struggling author of mixed success but it had not always been that way as Thomas Aiello shows in his study of the life and work of this forgotten midcentury figure As a youth Hillman attended the prestigious Noble and Greenough School near Boston Pursuing a career as a writer he published several dozen pieces of short fiction and a critically acclaimed novel Fortune's Cup 1941 Hollywood studios purchased the rights to two of his stories and made them into films The Great Man Votes 1939 and Here I Am a Stranger 1940 But Hillman remained for the most part a middling magazine writer like the majority of fiction authors working during the Depression Although most did not resort to acts of manic violence Hillman's tenuous position in literary circles along with his gradual descent into financial ruin proved a far more common tale than the stories of literary success often pored over by critics and historians of this period In The Trouble in Room 519 Money Matricide and Marginal Fiction in the Early Twentieth Century Aiello weaves a compelling true crime narrative into his exploration of the economics of magazine fiction and the strains placed on authors by the publishing industry prior to World War II Examining Hillman's writing as exemplary of Depression era popular fiction Aiello includes eight stories written by Hillman and originally published in prominent midcentury American magazines including Collier's Liberty and McCall's to provide additional context and insight into this trying time and tragic life

Female Corpses in Crime Fiction Glen S. Close, 2018-10-10 This book examines the central significance of sexualized female corpses in modern and contemporary Hispanic and Anglophone crime fiction Beginning with the foundational detective fictions of the nineteenth century it draws from diverse subgenres to describe a transatlantic tradition of necropornography characterized by lascivious interest in female cadavers dissection morgues femicide and snuff movies Hard boiled and police procedural classics from the U S and the U K are juxtaposed with texts by established Spanish and Spanish American genre masters and with obscure works that prefigure the contemporary transmedial boom in corpse centered fictions The rhetoric and aesthetics of necropornographic crime fiction are related to those of popular crime journalism and forensic science television dramas This study argues that crime fiction has long fixated disproportionately on the corpses of beautiful young white women and continues to treat their deaths and autopsies as occasions for male visual pleasure male subjective self affirmation and male homosocial bonding Subject Guide to Books in Print, 2001 Jin Ping Mei English Translations Lintao Qi, 2018-05-15 This book investigates the English translations and adaptations of the sixteenth century classic Chinese novel Jin Ping Mei Acclaimed the No 1 Marvellous Book of the Ming dynasty Jin Ping Mei was banned soon after its appearance due to the inclusion of graphically explicit sexual descriptions So far there have been more than a dozen English adaptations and translations of the novel Working within the framework of descriptive translation studies this book provides a translational history of the English versions of Jin Ping Mei supported by various paratexts including book covers reviews and archival materials It also conducts textual comparisons to uncover the translation norms at work in the only two complete renditions namely The Golden Lotus by Clement Egerton and The Plum in the Golden Vase by David Roy respectively The notions of agency habitus and capital are introduced for the examination of the transference of linguistic literary and cultural aspects of the two translations The book represents the first systematic research effort on the English Translations of Jin Ping Mei Given its pioneering status and interdisciplinary nature the data structure and findings of this book will potentially enrich the fields of Translation Studies Comparative Literature Chinese Studies Cultural Studies and Book History Library Journal Melvil Dewey, Richard Rogers Bowker, L.
