Note:

- ♦ Replace the oil cooler and thoroughly clean the oil passages if you find metal shavings or larger quantities of small metal particles in the engine oil, caused, for example, by partial seizure of the crankshaft and connecting rod bearings.
- ♦ Faulty injectors can cause violent knocking noises in the engine which sound like faulty bearings. When this occurs, run engine at idling speed and loosen injector line unions one after the other. If knocking stops when a union is loosened, this indicates that the injector concerned is faulty.
