Eat And Run My Unlikely Journey To Ultramarathon Greatness:

Eat and Run Scott Jurek, Steve Friedman, 2012-07-05 Run until you can't run anymore Then run some more Find a new source of energy and will Then run even faster The words of Scott Jurek a dominant force and darling in the gruelling and growing sport of ultrarunning for more than a decade In 1999 as a complete unknown he took the lead in the Western States Endurance Run a 100 mile jaunt over the Gold Rush trails of America's Sierra Nevada He went on to win that race seven years in a row Jurek was also one of the elite runners who travelled to Mexico to run with the Tarahumara Indians as profiled in the international bestseller Born to Run His accomplishments are nothing short of extraordinary In Eat and Run Jurek opens up about his life and career as an elite athlete and about the vegan diet that is key to his success From his Midwestern childhood of hunting and fishing to his slow transition to ultrarunning and veganism to his epic record breaking races Jurek's story shows the power of an iron will and the importance of thinking of food as fuel Full of stories of endurance and competition as well as practical advice and some of his original recipes Eat and Run will motivate people to go the distance whether that means getting out for a first run expanding your food horizons or simply exploring the limits of human potential

Running, Eating, Thinking Martin Rowe, 2014-05-06 In recent years endurance athletes bodybuilders and long distance runners such as Ruth Heidrich Scott Jurek Rich Roll Brendan Brazier Robert Cheeke and many others have destroyed the notion that you cannot be a top flight competitor on a plant based diet and upended the stereotype that veganism means weakness placidity and passivity But are there deeper connections between veganism and running for example that reach beyond attaining peak performance to other aspects of being vegan such as living lightly on the land caring for other than human life and connecting to our animal bodies The fifteen writers in Running Eating Thinking wager that there are and they explore in manifold ways how those connections might be made From coping with cancer to reflecting on the need of the confined animal to run free from Buddhist ideas of nonviolence to harnessing the breath for singing and running and from extolling the glories of lentils to committing oneself to the long run in animal activism Running Eating Thinking is a pioneering anthology that may redefine your thinking about veganism and running se transformer en athlète d'exception. Une mutation rendue possible grâce à un mental hors norme et en suivant un régime alimentaire rigoureux. Il retrace sa carrière exceptionnelle de champion végétarien pour en faire une source d'inspiration à l'attention de tous les autres coureurs. De son enfance passée à chasser et à pêcher dans un Midwest où la viande est l'honneur, chaque repas, son immersion progressive dans l'ultra-marathon et le végétarisme, Scott Jurek témoigne du pouvoir infini de la volonté et fait voler en éclats les idées reçues en matière de diététique sportive. Avec ses récits de courses piquées, ses conseils pratiques et ses recettes personnelles, il offre à tous une source de motivation et nous ouvre en passant de nouveaux horizons culinaires.

North Scott Jurek, 2018-04-10 From the author of the bestseller Eat and Run a thrilling memoir about his grueling exhilarating and immensely inspiring 46 day run to break the speed record for the Appalachian Trail Scott Jurek is one of the world's best known and most beloved ultrarunners. Renowned for his remarkable endurance and speed accomplished on a vegan diet he's finished first in nearly all of ultrarunning's elite events over the course of his career. But after two decades of racing training speaking and touring Jurek felt an urgent need to discover something new about himself. He embarked on a wholly unique challenge one that would force him to grow as a person and as an athlete breaking the speed record for the Appalachian Trail. North is the story of the 2 189 mile journey that nearly shattered him. When he set out in the spring of 2015 Jurek anticipated punishing terrain forbidding weather and inevitable injuries. He would have to run nearly 50 miles a day every day for almost seven weeks. He knew he would be pushing himself to the limit that comfort and rest would be in short supply but he couldn't have imagined the physical and emotional toll the trip would exact nor the rewards it would offer. With his wife Jenny friends and the kindness of strangers supporting him Jurek ran hiked and stumbled his way north one white blaze at a time. A stunning narrative of perseverance and personal transformation North is a portrait of a man stripped bare on the most demanding and transcendent effort of his life. It will inspire runners and non runners alike to keep striving for their personal best.

Summary of Scott Jurek & Steve Friedman's Eat And Run
Everest Media, 2022-06-30T22:59:00Z Please note This is a companion version not the original book. Sample Book Insights 1 I am an ultramarathoner and I have competed in races longer than the marathon distance of 26.2 miles. But I had been eating only plant-based foods for seven years and I had underestimated the race itself. 2 Ultrarunning requires extreme confidence and intense humility. To be a champion you must believe you can defeat your competitors but you must also understand that winning requires total commitment and a lack of wavering focus might lead to defeat or worse. 3 Ultrarunners take off at sunrise and continue through sunset moonrise and another sunrise sunset and moonrise. They run with bruised bones and scraped skin and they never stop to rest. 4 I had done it before and I could do it again. At another time on another summer night in another race I might have gazed in wonder at the stars glittering against the velvety black night. I might have moved toward the mountains dark disapproving bulk until it had transformed to welcome.

The Extra Mile Pam Reed, 2007-09-18 One year after her astonishing victory at the Badwater Ultramarathon Pam Reed again made distance running history when she braved the hottest weather in years 135 degrees to successfully defend her title How does this 100 pound mother and stepmother of five muster the endurance and courage for the 28 hour climb from the hottest desert floor on Earth to the shadow of the continental United States tallest point In The Extra Mile we watch this ultramarathon champion seek balance in her life as a wife mother athlete and entrepreneur With astonishing candor she tells of her 15 year long battle with anorexia And she helps us to understand her passion for ultrarunning to discover how far the human body can be pushed mountains across Death Valley and to the South Pole and is probably the first person to eat an entire pizza while running. With an insight, candor, and humor rarely seen in sports memoirs and written without the aid of a ghostwriter or cowriter, Ultramarathon Man has inspired tens of thousands of people, nonrunners and runners alike, to push themselves beyond their comfort zones and be reminded of what it feels like to be truly alive, says Sam Fussell, author of Muscle. Ultramarathon Man answers the questions Karnazes is continually asked: Why do you do it? How do you do it? Are you insane? And in the new paperback edition, Karnazes answers the two questions he was most asked on his book tour: What exactly do you eat? How do you train to stay in such good shape?

The Longest Race Ed Ayres, 2013-08-20 It soon becomes clear that this book isn't just about an athletic race. It's also about the human race. Bloomberg Businessweek: Having run in more than six hundred races over the span of fifty-five years, Ed Ayres is a legendary distance runner, and this book is his urgent exploration of the connection between individual endurance and a sustainable society. The Longest Race begins in 2001 at the starting line of the JFK 50 Mile, the nation's oldest and largest ultramarathon, and like other such races, it's an epic test of human limits and aspiration. At age sixty, his sights set on breaking the age division record, Ayres embarks on a course over the rocky ridge of the Appalachian Trail along the headwind-buffed towpath of the Potomac River and past momentous Civil War sites such as Harpers Ferry and Antietam. But even as Ayres focuses on an endurance runner's familiar concerns—starting strong and setting the right pace, controlling his breathing, overcoming fatigue, and staying mindful of the course ahead—he finds himself as preoccupied with the future of our planet as with the finish line. A veteran journalist and environmental editor, Ayres reveals how the skills and mindset necessary to complete an ultramarathon are also essential for grappling anew with the imperative to endure, not only as individuals but as a society, and not just for fifty miles but over the real long haul in a unique meditation that ought to be required reading even for people who have never run a step. The Boston Globe: He seamlessly moves between discussing running to exploring larger life issues, such as why we run, our impact on the environment, and the effects of the nation's declining physical fitness. Thought Provoking Booklist: To read this book is to run alongside a seasoned athlete, a deep thinker, and a great storyteller. And Ayres doesn't disappoint. He is the best kind of running companion, generously doling out hilarious stories and hard-won insights into performance conditioning and the human condition. His lifetime of ultra-running and environmental writing drive his exploration of what keeps us running long distances and what it might take to keep the planet from being run into the ground. Nature Conservancy magazine.

Distance Memories Scott Ludwig, 2013-04-30 I've been around the block a few times. Over half a million times, actually. Assuming a block is approximately 100 yards long and 100 yards wide, running just over 130,000 lifetime miles equates to a few more than 500,000 times around the block. So yeah, I've been around the block a few times. I've had my share of ups and downs. The Boston Marathon, the Badwater Ultramarathon, and having whatever it takes to run every single day since November 30, 1978, would fall into the former. An aging body, injuries, and well, to be totally honest, falling down while running much too often these days.

would fall into the latter But its been a good long run and I wouldnt have wanted it any other way My wife Cindy believes the 2003 Badwater Ultramarathon signaled the beginning of my declining health and running ability I beg to differ I believe it was my last place and darn proud of it finish in the 2006 Western States Endurance Run that catapulted me into the downside of my running career However I have no regrets As I said earlier its been a good long run and I wouldnt have wanted it any other way Besides if it had been any other way I wouldnt have had the many tales you will find in this book that you quite frankly could not possibly find anywhere else These are my stories from my experiences and my perspectives on running as well as life Theyre all absolutely true Theyre all brutally honest Theyre all from the heart Most of all theyre all mine Scott Ludwig 2013
