Exiting Nirvana Clara Claiborne Park, 2009-06-27 The author of The Siege provides readers with what is perhaps the finest exposition of a parent's decades long experience with a child with autism Jeffrey L Geller MD MPH Psychiatric Services Exiting Nirvana details Clara Claiborne Park's continuing efforts to have her adult daughter Jessy develop as an artist and connect with our world Park has been both mother and anthropologist recording verbal and social breakthroughs and setbacks administering praise and succor She describes the serene insularity of the autistic's Nirvana and observes collisions between the autistic and external worlds She's urged Jessy to enter yet never entirely the extraordinary dailiness inhabited by nonautistic people In incisive often exquisite prose Park affords entry into Jessy's and her own remarkable journey between the two Publishers Weekly Beautifully written a fascinating excursion into an otherworldly mind The New York Times Park's second book on her daughter Jessy the first appeared in 1967 when Jessy was eight is a perceptive detailed and empathetic account not of autism but of the experience of autism A warm levelheaded neither overly optimistic nor overly glorified book that proves very rewarding Booklist This beautifully crafted portrait of an autistic adult artist includes color reproductions of Jessy's paintings with descriptions in her own handwriting Library Journal This beautifully written book is must reading and not only for those seeking an understanding of autism Bernard Rimland Director The Autism Research Institute

Girls Growing Up on the Autism Spectrum Shana Nichols, 2009-01-15 This book covers the concerns faced by girls with ASDs and their parents from periods and puberty to friendships and fitting in Looking at these issues within the context of specific areas of difficulty for girls with ASDs the authors provide families with the knowledge and advice they need to help the whole family through the teenage years Intelligent Love Marga Vicedo, 2021-03-23 Winner of the History of Science Society's 2022 Davis Prize How one mother challenged the medical establishment and misconceptions about autistic children and their parents In the early 1960s Massachusetts writer and homemaker Clara Park and her husband took their 3 year old daughter Jessy to a specialist after noticing that she avoided connection with others Following the conventional wisdom of the time the psychiatrist diagnosed Jessy with autism and blamed Clara for Jessy's isolation Experts claimed Clara was the prototypical refrigerator mother a cold intellectual parent who starved her children of the natural affection they needed to develop properly Refusing to accept this Clara decided to document her daughter's behaviors and the family's engagement with her In 1967 she published her groundbreaking memoir challenging the refrigerator mother theory and carefully documenting Jessy's development Clara's insights and advocacy encouraged other parents to seek education and support for their autistic children Meanwhile Jessy would work hard to expand her mother's world and ours Drawing on previously unexamined archival sources and firsthand interviews science historian Marga Vicedo illuminates the story of how Clara Park and other parents fought against medical and popular attitudes toward autism while presenting a rich account of major scientific developments in the history of autism in the US Intelligent Love is a fierce defense of a mother's right to love intelligently the value of parents' firsthand knowledge about their children and an individual's right to be valued by society      Chasing the Intact Mind Amy S. F. Lutz, 2023-09-20 In Chasing the Intact Mind Amy Lutz traces the history of the intact mind concept explaining how it influences current disability policy and practice in the United States Lutz describes how we got to this moment where the severely autistic are elided out of public discourse and the intensive disability specific supports they need defunded or closed altogether Lutz argues that focusing on the intact mind and marginalizing those with severe disability reproduces historic patterns of discrimination that yoked human worth to intelligence and that it is only by making space for the impaired mind that we will be able to resolve these ongoing clashes as well as even larger questions of personhood dependency and care      *With the Light...
