Faith Politics And Reconciliation Catholicism And The Politics Of Indigeneity Atf Series:

Following Jesus in Invaded Space Chris Budden, 2009-05-04 Christianity is never just about beliefs but habits and practices for better or worse Theology always reflects the social location of the theologian including her privileges and prejudices all the time working with a particular often undisclosed notion of what is normal Therefore theology is never neutral it defends particular constructions of reality and it promotes certain interests Following Jesus in Invaded Space asks what and whose interests theology protects when it is part of a community that invaded the land of Indigenous peoples Developing a theological method and position that self consciously acknowledges the church's role in occupying Aboriginal land in Australia it dares to speak of God church and justice in the context of past history and continuing dispossession Hence a Second people's theology emerges through constant and careful attention to experiences of invasion and displacement brought into dialogue with the theological landscape or tradition of the church

Faith, Politics and Reconciliation Dominic O'Sullivan, 2005 Were Catholics guilty of aiding and abetting the genocide of indigenous peoples during the colonization of Australia and New Zealand Is saying sorry and paying some compensation for losses suffered to indigenous peoples of both countries enough What obligations do Catholics now have if a peaceful and harmonious society is to emerge from the tragedy of the past In order to answer these and other related questions over the role of the Roman Catholic Church in the colonization of Australia and New Zealand Dominic O'Sullivan takes us on a theological philosophical and political journey from the countries of Europe to the colonies of Australia and New Zealand

The Spirit, Indigenous Peoples and Social Change Michael J. Frost, 2018-11-05 In The Spirit Indigenous Peoples and Social Change Michael Frost explores a pentecostal theology of social engagement in relation to Māori in New Zealand Pentecostalism has had an ambiguous relationship with Māori and in particular lacks a robust and coherent theological framework for engaging in issues of social concern Drawing on a number of interviews with Māori pentecostal leaders and ministers Frost explores the transformative role of pentecostal experience for Māori cultural identity a holistic theology of mission an indigenous prophetic emphasis and consequent connections between pentecostalism and liberation He thus contributes a way forward for pentecostal theologies of social change in relation to Māori with implications for pentecostalism and indigenous peoples in the West

A Theology of Land Christopher Gerard Sexton, 2019-07-01 On the face of things the spirituality of Australia's Aboriginals is hard to reconcile with a spirituality of Christian theology with its human centrism apt to a Son of God in Man made flesh in Jesus Christ Nevertheless this author Christopher Sexton a Sydney based lawyer drew on his deep Catholic theological beliefs and intense dialogue with Aboriginal elders to find a surprisingly common ground and in abundance The creation stories of each lay emphasis on humanity's stewardship for the earth and its mystical riches Here is a book by a Christian lawyer who consulted widely and deeply with our First People's He found more in common between our distinct spiritualities than might be expected Proving once again that listening deeply to each other will often yield common ground

The Catholic

Cochran, David Carroll Cochran, 2003 Political scientists show how principles of Catholic social teaching can guide judgments about contemporary political issues A Nation for All Chris Korzen, Alexia Kelley, 2008-06-17 On the eve of the most important presidential election in decades A NATION FOR ALL sounds the trumpet to the tens of millions of U S Catholics who have refused to buy the notion that people of faith must subscribe to the narrow agenda of the far right By shining the light of authentic Catholic teaching on pressing contemporary concerns like war human dignity poverty and the looming global climate crisis this book shows Catholics how their own faith tradition calls them to tackle a sweeping array of issues commonly left out of the faith and politics dialog Most important A NATION FOR ALL demonstrates how the core Catholic and Christian belief in promoting the common good can provide Americans of all faith traditions with a much needed solution to the downward spiral of greed materialism and excessive individualism Surprise of Reconciliation in the Catholic Tradition, The Carney, J. J., Johnston, Laurie, 2018 An examination of the contribution that could be made by the Catholic historical tradition to Christian social reconciliation The authors hope that their work will result in fruitful Christian peacebuilding Minorities and Reconstructive Coalitions Willie Gin, 2017-07-06 As with Muslims today Catholics were once suspected of being antidemocratic oppressive of women and supportive of extremist political violence By the end of the twentieth century Catholics were considered normal and sometimes valorized as exemplary citizens Can other ethnic racial and religious minorities follow the same path Minorities and Reconstructive Coalitions provides an answer by comparing the stories of ethnic Catholics political incorporation in Australia Canada and the United States Through comparative and historical analysis the book shows that reconstructive coalitions such as labor and pan Christian moral movements can bring Catholics and Protestants together under new identities significantly improving Catholic standing Not all coalitions are reconstructive or successful and institutional structures such as regional autonomy can enhance or inhibit the formation of these coalitions The book provides overviews of the history of Catholics in the three countries reorients the historiography of Catholic incorporation in the United States uncovers the phenomenon of minority overrepresentation in politics and advances unique arguments about the impact of coalitions on minority politics The Church and Indigenous Peoples in the Americas Michel Andraos, 2019-01-25 Indigenous and non Indigenous voices come together in this volume to discuss both the wounds of colonial history and the opportunities for decolonization reconciliation and hope in the relationship between the church and Indigenous peoples across the Americas Scholars and pastoral leaders from Chile Bolivia Brazil Mexico the United States and Canada and Indigenous peoples of Mapuche Chiquitano Tzeltal Maya Oglala Sioux Mi kmaq and Anishinaabe Ojibwe reflect on the possibility of constructing decolonial theology and pastoral praxis and on the urgent need for transformation of church structures and old theology The book opens new horizons for different ways of thinking and acting and for the emergence of a truly intercultural theology Reconciliation as Political Ethic Sharon Mei Tan, 2003

Politics and Faith in a Polarized World John C. Milloy, 2021 Reconciliation as Politics Kjell-Ake Nordquist, 2017-03-14
Is political reconciliation a new tool for peace building and justice in peace processes and other complex social reconstruction efforts after dictatorship or civil wars Or is it just another term for established practices like negotiation conflict resolution and cooperation Reconciliation processes after conflict and war can be very different in form and content Kjell Ake Nordquist analyzes the concept of reconciliation from a political perspective and outlines an understanding of its characteristics in a comparison with its closest conceptual relatives forgiveness and conflict resolution In addition Nordquist specifically addresses the structural dimensions of reconciliation and formulates an understanding of reconciliation that identifies a specific contribution to the settlement of political conflicts In this way political reconciliation has the potential to be an approach that along with other activities contributes to more complete and genuine peace processes
