Family Leadership An Obligation To Fulfill Not An Excuse To Abuse:

Family Leadership (qawamah) Mohamed Rida Beshir, 2009 Rebellious Wives, Neglectful Husbands Hadia Mubarak, 2022 Rebellious Wives Neglectful Husbands explores significant shifts in modern Qur'anic commentaries on the subject of women against the backdrop of broader historical intellectual and political developments in early twentieth century North Africa. Hadia Mubarak argues that the historical context of colonialism, nationalism, and modernization in the modern Muslim world set into motion new ways of engaging with the subject of women in the Qur'an. Focusing on Qur'anic commentaries as a literary genre, Mubarak offers a critical and comparative analysis of three influential modern Sunni Qur'anic commentaries authored by an Islamic modernist, an Islamist, and a neo-traditionalist respectively, with medieval commentaries spanning the ninth to fourteenth centuries on polygyny, divorce, sexual neglect, and marital hierarchy. In contrast to assessments of the exegetical tradition as monolithically patriarchal, Rebellious Wives Neglectful Husbands identifies critical shifts in modern Qur'anic commentaries on gender, illustrating the ways in which modern commentators challenge patriarchal interpretations of the Qur'an while entrenching others. Rather than pit a seemingly egalitarian Qur'an against an allegedly patriarchal exegetical tradition, Mubarak captures a tafsir tradition with pluralistic, complex, and evolving interpretations of women and gender in the Qur'an. Mubarak argues that the capacity to bring new meanings to bear on the Qur'an is not only intellectually viable but inherent to the exegetical tradition.

Indonesian Muslims in a Global World Teuku Zulfikar, 2017-08-21 Muslim communities in non-Muslim countries and particularly their younger members have been an interesting topic in academia recently. Many books and journal articles have been written on the identity issues of young Muslims, and this book serves to enrich previous literature on this important issue. It highlights Indonesian Muslims' experience of living in between their home and their host society, namely Australia. However, the study differs in some respects from other books on similar issues, describing Muslim identity through the viewpoints of the sacred book of Islam, the Qur'an, and also as described by scholars investigating the identity construction of young Muslims. The book suggests an essentialized understanding of Muslim identity as described in the sacred text but at the same time recognizes that discourses and agencies influence the way in which a community projects itself.

Counseling Muslims Sameera Ahmed, Mona M. Amer, 2013-06-17 A young female client presents with anorexia nervosa and believes that her problem has its roots in magic. Parents are helpless in the face of their son's substance abuse issues. An interracial couple cannot agree on how to discipline their children. How would you effectively help these clients while balancing appropriate interventions that are sensitive to religious, cultural, social, and gender differences? This handbook answers these difficult questions and helps behavioral health practitioners provide religiously and culturally competent care to Muslim clients living in territories such as North America, Australia, and Europe. The issues and interventions discussed in this book by authoritative contributors are diverse and multifaceted. Topics that have been ignored in previous literature are introduced, such as sex therapy, substance abuse, counseling university counseling and community based prevention Chapters integrate tables lists and suggested phrasing for practitioners along with case studies that are used by the authors to help illustrate concepts and potential interventions Counseling Muslims is also unique in its broad scope which reflects interventions ranging from the individual to community levels and includes chapters that discuss persons born in the West converts to Islam and those from smaller ethnic minorities It is the only guide practitioners need for information on effective service delivery for Muslims who already bypass significant cultural stigma and shame to access mental health services
