Fenton, 2022-08-08 This volume explores generational differences in alcohol consumption practices and examines the changing role of alcohol across the life course It considers generational patterns in where how and why people buy and consume alcohol and how these may interact with identity and belonging and considers how drinking alcohol in adolescence adulthood middle age or later life takes on different functions meanings and tensions Alcohol is shown to play an important role in biographical transitions such as in the coming of age rituals that mark the passage from adolescences to adulthood whilst drinking alcohol in adulthood and in later life takes on new meanings pleasures and risks in light of shifting roles and responsibilities relating to work leisure and the family The empirically informed contributions draw on a range of diverse disciplinary backgrounds and a range of cultural contexts provides a nuanced examination of the role of alcohol at different life course stages and explores both continuity and change between generations Family Ties and Aging Ingrid Arnet relationships older people maintain looking at how family relationships are constructed and organised in later life It recognises that the emerging patterns are a consequence of the choices and decisions negotiated within family networks emphasising older people's agency in the construction of their family practices In exploring such themes as long term marriage sibling ties in later life and grandparenthood the book highlights the continued significance of family connection and solidarity in later life while recognizing that family relationships are inevitably modified over time as people's social and material circumstances alter Family Practices in Later Life will be of interest to students researchers and academics in the fields of social policy family studies and social gerontology It provides a valuable contribution to the developing field of critical social gerontology as well as to an understanding of family process Ageing: Forms and practice Susan A.
