Falling Into Place An Intimate Geography Of Home:

Falling into Place Catherine Reid, 2015-07-14 Quietly powerful essays weaving keenly observed insights into the mysteries of nature with those of family and community It's not easy Catherine Reid writes to love a person and a place in equal measure Love she does however as described in these intimate lyric essays about the land and people around her With the inside perspective of a native New Englander combined with her outsider status as a lesbian Reid explores such paradoxes as those that arise from harnessing wild rivers or legalizing same sex marriage Her fascination with natural phenomena whether bird hibernation the arrival of fishers in suburbia or the explosion of amphibious life in the wet weeks of spring is captured in writing that pays as much attention to the sounds of a sentence as to the rhythms of the landscapes she wanders Ultimately Reid finds herself having to choose between her farmhouse near the Berkshires and a job in the South between her known role in the land's stories and a new story yet to be written Solace comes from companions as varied as a praying mantis an otter and her hundred year old grandmother while resilience shows up in the stories of streams recovering from toxic spills and in communities weathering floods and town meetings Reid celebrates the joyous engagement that comes with developing a deep connection with the places we call home and the life human animal botanical that surrounds us At the same time she offers keen insights into the way nature ultimately remains mysterious beyond our knowing Sensuous and provocative Falling into Place faces the beauty and challenges of our changing world head on

The Changing Blue Ridge Mountains Brent Martin, 2019-06-17 Explore this section of the Appalachians in these essays examining its history its wilderness and what change means for its future In the eighteenth century naturalist and artist William Bartram traveled in the Blue Ridge Mountains and spent time documenting both plant life and the customs of the Middle Town Cherokees Since that time men and women like Bartram have journeyed through Western North Carolina's wildest and most remote places and written about their experiences The essays in this volume compare the present day to those historical journeys and explore the idea of wilderness and what change means for the future of the people and the species who live in the mountains Join local writer and guide Brent Martin on a journey through this incredible landscape With unflinching candor Brent Martin celebrates the heartbreaking beauty of Appalachia He wrings out every sensory and emotional detail in these passionate probing essays that explore the wild within These aren't lyrical paeans to nature they are gritty gutsy journeys into the rugged remote landscapes of the human heart Immersed in mountain tradition culture and community he wanders deep and alone into the wild to find what remains Martin's powerful masterful writing shines with real hard earned hope Will Harlan author of the New York Times bestseller Untamed The Wildest Woman in America If you love the Southern Appalachians and Wendell Berry and Annie Dillard and Gary Snyder read this beautifully written and deeply thought provoking book Charles Frazier author of the New York Times bestseller Cold Mountain A thoughtful and thought provoking collection of essays from one of Appalachia's staunchest proponents of wilderness and one of its most devoted writers Brent Martin is a preeminent naturalist and a scholar of the history of his place This book is deeply personal highly instructive far reaching Janisse Ray author of Ecology of a Cracker Childhood A loving a troubling portrait of the southern Appalachians the rich history and complexity of ecosystems alongside the damage we've wrought on them Catherine Reid author of Falling into Place An Intimate Geography of Home This Impermanent Earth Douglas Carlson, Soham Patel, 2021-09-01 With its thirty three essays This Impermanent Earth charts the course of the American literary response to the twentieth century's accumulation of environmental deprivations Arranged chronologically from 1974 to the present the works have been culled from The Georgia Review long considered an important venue for nonfiction among literary magazines published in the United States The essays range in subject matter from twentieth century examples of what was then called nature writing through writing after 2000 that gradually redefines the environment in increasingly human terms to a more inclusive expansion that considers all human surroundings as material for environmental inquiry Likewise the approaches range from formal essays to prose works that reflect the movement toward innovation and experimentation The collection builds as it progresses later essays grow from earlier ones This Impermanent Earth is more than a historical survey of a literary form however The Georgia Review's talented writers and its longtime commitment to the art of editorial practice have produced a collection that is as one reviewer put it incredibly moving varied and inspiring It is a book that will be as at home in the reading room as in the classroom Talking Book Topics, 2014-11 The Good City Emily Hiestand, Ande Zellman, 2004-07-30 Boston has persevered through the bad old days to thrive and more to make a kind of statement about the good city The good city is innovative and fun it is prosperous it strives for justice and sustainability but above all it is alive From the Introduction by Paul Grogan The Good City presents a vivid new profile of Boston through the work of fifteen of the city's finest writers Robert Campbell and Jane Holtz Kay on Boston's embrace of lively urban density James Miller on the city's intellectual history Jack Beatty on Boston's colorful political past and present Patricia Powell on the literary landscape and the immigrant experience Susan Orlean on the city she left and now loves John Hanson Mitchell on how nature revives the metropolis Anita Diamant on Boston as a spiritual home Scott Kirsner on Boston as a powerhouse of scientific and technological innovation Alan Chong on the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum and the arts in Boston Lynda Morgenroth on the city's neighborhoods Michael Patrick MacDonald on gentrification and what it means to old neighborhoods like Southie Derrick Jackson on Boston as a laboratory for advancing race relations Howard Bryant on the city's obsession with sports Irene Smalls on seeing the city through the eyes of a child Occupying Space in American Literature and Culture Ana M. Manzananas, Jesús Benito Sanchez, 2014-04-24 Occupying Space in American Literature and Culture inscribes itself within the spatial turn that permeates the ways we look at literary and cultural productions The volume seeks to clarify the connections between race space class and identity as it concentrates on different occupations and disoccupations enclosures and boundaries Space is scaled up and down from the body the ground zero of spatiality to the texturology of Manhattan from the striated place of the office in Melville's Bartleby the Scrivener on Wall Street to the striated spaces of internment camps and reservations from the lowest of the low the human clutter that lined the streets of Albany NY during the Depression to the new Towers of Babel that punctuate the contemporary architecture of transparencies As it strings together these spatial narratives the volume reveals how beyond the boundaries that characterize each space every location has loose ends that are impossible to contain
