Applied Numerical Methods for Chemical Engineers Navid Mostoufi, Alkis Constantinides, 2022-05-22 Applied Numerical Methods for Chemical Engineers emphasizes the derivation of a variety of numerical methods and their application to the solution of engineering problems with special attention to problems in the chemical engineering field. These algorithms encompass linear and nonlinear algebraic equations, eigenvalue problems, finite difference methods, interpolation, differentiation, and integration, ordinary differential equations, boundary value problems, partial differential equations, and linear and nonlinear regression analysis. MATLAB is adopted as the calculation environment throughout the book because of its ability to perform all the calculations in matrix form, its large library of built-in functions, its strong structural language, and its rich graphical visualization tools. Through this book, students and other users will learn about the basic features, advantages, and disadvantages of various numerical methods, learn and practice many useful m-files developed for different numerical methods, in addition to the MATLAB built-in solvers, develop and set up mathematical models for problems commonly encountered in chemical engineering, and solve chemical engineering related problems through examples and after chapter problems with MATLAB by creating application m-files. Clearly and concisely develops a variety of numerical methods and applies them to the solution of chemical engineering problems. These algorithms encompass linear and nonlinear algebraic equations, eigenvalue problems, finite difference methods, interpolation, linear and nonlinear regression analysis, differentiation, and integration, ordinary differential equations, boundary value problems, and partial differential equations. Includes systematic development of the calculus of finite differences and its application to the integration of differential equations and a detailed discussion of nonlinear regression analysis with powerful programs for implementing multivariable nonlinear regression and statistical analysis of the results.
