

What is Federalism?

idea: The federal system of government utilized by the United States provides both benefits and responsibilities to the states, established government by dividing powers between the levels of government.

Question: Summarize the questions below using the information in the Lesson Comments on the previous pages. (4 page's notes)

Lesson 1: Are Citizens of the Constitution?

1. Does federalism mean the American citizens exercise popular sovereignty?

answered by the first three as discussed above and highlighted, I have written below a key statement as well.

2. Should the Citizens of the state be systems of checks and balances, the process of the government should eventually be equal. Citizens agree with this system by voting. This, I agree that the government is created and should remain equal to those who are the state's representatives. However, sometimes power remains held in certain and complete authority, sometimes the government and citizens are at government. The system of checks and balances cannot be removed or modified as it is different. Federalism is a system of government, providing the states with the power to govern the states.

Lesson 2: Amending the Constitution

3. Compare and contrast what is similar about why Congress should make changes to the Constitution? What are the methods of amending the Constitution say?

Both Congress and the states (initially) change the Constitution through Congress, providing the legislative branch the power and process to pass.

There are two different forms of amendment. Congress can also pass the law that officials can pass and the Constitution can be amended. Congress can also pass the law that can be amended, and the Constitution can be amended.

4. Identify three different ways of amending the Constitution, how?
