Feminists Under Fire Exchanges Across War Zones:

Feminists Under Fire Wenona Mary Giles, 2003 This wide ranging anthology compares the social political and economic situations of women during the civil wars in Sri Lanka and the former Yugoslavia Gendered Agency in War and Peace Maria O'Reilly, 2017-11-03 This book examines how gendered agency emerges in peacebuilding contexts It develops a feminist critique of the international peacebuilding interventions through a study of transitional justice policies and practices implemented in Bosnia Herzegovina and local activists responses to official discourses surrounding them Extending Nancy Fraser s tripartite model of justice to peacebuilding contexts the book also advances notions of recognition redistribution and representation as crucial components of gender just peace It argues that recognising women as victims and survivors of conflict achieving a gender equitable distribution of material and symbolic resources and enabling women to participate as agents of transitional justice processes are all essential for transforming the structural inequalities that enable gender violence and discrimination to materialise before during and after conflict This study establishes a new avenue of analysis for understanding responses and resistances to international peacebuilding by offering a sustained engagement with feminist social and political theory Human Rights in Postcolonial India Om Prakash Dwivedi, V. G. Julie Rajan, 2016-02-26 This volume looks at human rights in independent India through frameworks comparable to those in other postcolonial nations in the Global South It examines wide ranging issues that require immediate attention such as those related to disability violence torture education LGBT neoliberalism and social justice The essays presented here explore the discourse surrounding human rights and engage with aspects linked to the functioning of democracy security and strategic matters and terrorism especially post 9 11 They also discuss cases connected with human rights violations in India and underline the need for a transparent approach and a more comprehensive perspective of India s human rights record Part of the series Ethics Human Rights and Global Political Thought the volume will be an important resource for academics policy makers civil society organisations lawyers and those concerned with human rights It will also be useful to scholars and researchers of Indian politics law and sociology Identity and Power in Narratives of Displacement Katrina M. Powell, 2015-02-11 In this book Powell examines the ways that identities are constructed in displacement narratives based on cases of eminent domain natural disaster and civil unrest attending specifically to the rhetorical strategies employed as barriers and boundaries intersect with individual lives She provides a unique method to understand how the displaced move within accepted and subversive discourses and how representation is a crucial component of that movement In addition Powell shows how notions of human rights and the public good are often at odds with individual well being and result in intriguing intersections between discourses of power and discourses of identity Given the ever increasing numbers of displaced persons across the globe and the layers of displacement experienced by many this study sheds light on the resources of rhetoric as means of survival and resistance during the globally common experience of displacement Being Again of One Mind Lina

Sunseri,2010-11-21 Being Again of One Mind combines the narratives of Oneida women of various generations with a critical reading of feminist literature on nationalism to reveal that some Indigenous women view nationalism in the form of decolonization as a way to restore traditional gender balance and well being to their own lives and communities By giving a voice to Oneida women s thoughts on tradition and nation this book challenges mainstream feminist ideas about the masculine bias of Western theories of nation and about the dangers of nationalist movements that idealize women s so called traditional role Lina Sunseri shows that feminist insights although useful to many women s and feminist groups cannot be applied universally to all women or to societies with traditional forms of nation based on good relations between men and women Oneida women do not view nationalism as a threat but rather as a way for women and men to be again of one mind misused within domestic settings as well as in public spaces affecting everyone in the community without regard to sex or age. The impact of these weapons can be vastly different for women and men and for girls and boys. However, careful consideration of gender and age is rare in the formulation of small arms policy, of planning small arms collection or control, or even in small arms research. To counter the effects of prolific SALW, their role in gender and age specific violence must be more deeply analyzed and the results applied at the policy and operational level. This work should be undertaken in war afflicted contexts in societies suffering from elevated levels of social violence and/or severe underdevelopment and in those tolerant of the presence of individually owned firearms. Contributors to the book draw on experience and research from around the world on the nexus of gender, age, violence and small arms in developing and developed countries. They provide a number of recommendations for policies, programs and research designed to further illuminate and counteract the firing of the sexed pistol.
