Ethics and Politics of Translating Henri Meschonnic, 2011-07-12 What if meaning were the last thing that mattered in language In this essay Henri Meschonnic explains what it means to translate the sense of language and how to do it In a radical stand against a hermeneutical approach based on the dualistic view of the linguistic sign and against its separation into a meaningful signified and a meaningless signifier Henri Meschonnic argues for a poetics of translating Because texts generate meaning through their power of expression to translate ethically involves listening to the various rhythms that characterize them prosodic consonantal or vocalic patterns syntactical structures sentence length and punctuation among other discursive means However as the book illustrates such an endeavour goes against the grain and more precisely against a 2500 year old tradition in the case of biblical translation The inability of translators to give ear to rhythm in language results from a culturally transmitted deafness Henri Meschonnic decries the generalized unwillingness to remedy this cultural condition and discusses the political implications for the subject of discourse Training The Modern Translator: Cognitive Flexibility, Sociolinguistic Sensitivity, and Technological Proficiency Buğra KAŞ, 2025-11-24

The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Ethics Kaisa Koskinen, Nike K. Pokorn, 2020-12-16 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Ethics offers a comprehensive overview of issues surrounding ethics in translating and interpreting The chapters chart the philosophical and theoretical underpinnings of ethical thinking in Translation Studies and analyze the ethical dilemmas of various translatorial actors including translation trainers and researchers Authored by leading scholars and new voices in the field the 31 chapters present a wide coverage of emerging issues such as increasing technologization of translation posthumanism volunteering and activism accessibility and linguistic human rights Many chapters provide the first extensive overview of the topic or present new takes on established areas The book is divided into four parts with the first covering the most influential ethical theories Part II takes the perspective of agents in different contexts and the ethical dilemmas they face while Part III takes a critical look at central institutions structuring and controlling ethical behaviour Finally Part IV focuses on special issues and new challenges and signals new directions for further study This handbook is an indispensable resource for all students and researchers of translation and ethics within translation and interpreting studies multilingualism and comparative literature The Routledge Handbook of the Translation Industry Callum Walker, Joseph

Lambert, 2025-07-31 The Routledge Handbook of the Translation Industry provides an accessible and comprehensive overview of current and emerging practices workflows and processes in the translation industry the professional and socio economic contexts in which industry actors operate and best practices in translation industry teaching and research in this rapidly developing field Comprising 33 chapters from scholarly and industry voices this handbook addresses the many issues arising from growing technologisation new trends in translation procurement and production and increasing pressures on the range of actors in the translation industry The content spans both bottom up and top down perspectives using a variety of theoretical praxiological and data driven approaches In addition to providing coverage of a range of well established professional profiles workflows and resources this handbook adopts a novel approach in addressing emerging topics such as global sustainable development and wellbeing economics the platform economy and social media and the influencer economy The opening mapping chapter and final roundtable chapter provide fitting conceptual and forward looking bookends for the content This handbook offers a topical and much needed forum to engage with the challenges and opportunities facing the translation industry and constitutes an essential point of reference for students and researchers of translation as well as industry practitioners and professionals Chapter 4 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

Translation and Fantasy Literature in Taiwan Y. Chung, 2013-10-24 This book examines the rise in popularity of fantasy literature in Taiwan and the crucial but often invisible role that translators have played in making this genre widely available Topics covered include global fantasy fever Chinese fantasy game industry the social status of translators and the sociological direction of translations studies Positionalities of Translation Studies Garda Elsherif, Joanna Sobesto, 2025-06-12 This volume explores historical cultural linguistic and anthropocentric influences on Translation Studies TS It brings together nuanced individual self reflexive case studies and juxtaposes them in order to provoke discussion on the role of contemporary researchers in the discipline of TS As well as reflecting on the historical and geographical dimensions of the situatedness of TS the book builds on existing reflections on the local political and linguistic positions of TS and examines the practical and methodological consequences of these discussions By considering insights and perspectives from various disciplines the contributors refer to the current state of the art in TS and reconstruct the discussions held on Eurocentrism anthropocentrism and the historicity of TS that have been discussed in isolation so far This volume maps potential relations between them and introduces an analytical concept of positionality that highlights commonalities among various discourses As well as theoretical and historical analysis the contributors ask how to methodologically deal with this inevitable positioning of research in contemporary research practice The contributions cover various aspects of positionalities and its influences on translation research including gender anthropocentrism experiential knowledge and geopolitics They also explore various histories of translation studies in different temporal spatial and linguistic settings such as China Chinese Iran Persian the Netherlands English Ukraine Ukrainian Russian and France French thereby highlighting that TS as a discipline is not a monolith but consists of various histories interconnected with each other Multimodal Affordances in Diplomatic Interpreting Xinqiao Cen, Derek Irwin, 2025-08-29 This book offers an in depth exploration of diplomatic interpreting as a complex form of multimodal interaction drawing on examples from China U S diplomatic interpreting activities to demonstrate the nuances of meaning transfer across modes and contexts The volume introduces the notion of interpreting being inherently multimodal through its employment of a range of semiotic repertoires including linguistic modes gesture audial information spatial arrangement and visual imagery Featuring case studies from China U S diplomatic interpreting scenarios Cen and Irwin examine the means and reasons by which interpreters mediate the range of multimodal semiotic resources in such situations in order to accommodate different meanings across varied contexts and their strategies for contextualizing and recontextualizing meaning while navigating different diplomatic interests and interpersonal relationships Taken together the book outlines a new framework for understanding and analyzing bilateral interpreting through a multimodal lens with implications for interpreting in international studies on a wider scale This volume will be valuable reading for students and scholars in interpreting studies applied linguistics intercultural communication and international relations

Interpreters and War Crimes Kayoko Takeda, 2021-03-23 Taking an interdisciplinary approach this book raises new questions and provides different perspectives on the roles responsibilities ethics and protection of interpreters in war while investigating the substance and agents of Japanese war crimes and legal aspects of interpreters taking part in war crimes Informed by studies on interpreter ethics in conflict historical studies of Japanese war crimes and legal discussion on individual liability in war crimes Takeda provides a detailed description and analysis of the 39 interpreter defendants and interpreters as witnesses of war crimes at British military trials against the Japanese in the aftermath of the Pacific War and tackles ethical and legal issues of various risks faced by interpreters in violent conflict The book first discusses the backgrounds recruitment and wartime activities of the accused interpreters at British military trials in addition to the charges they faced the defence arguments and the verdicts they received at the trials with attention to why so many of the accused were Taiwanese and foreign born Japanese Takeda provides a contextualized discussion focusing on the Japanese military's specific linguistic needs in its occupied areas in Southeast Asia and the attributes of interpreters who could meet such needs In the theoretical examination of the issues that emerge the focus is placed on interpreters proximity to danger visibility and perceived authorship of speech legal responsibility in war crimes and ethical issues in testifying as eyewitnesses of criminal acts in violent hostilities Takeda critically examines prior literature on the roles of interpreters in conflict and ethical concerns such as interpreter neutrality and confidentiality drawing on legal discussion of the ineffectiveness of the superior orders defence and modes of individual liability in war crimes The book seeks to promote intersectoral discussion on how interpreters can be protected from exposure to manifestly unlawful acts such as torture
