Ethical Research With Children Untold Narratives And Taboos:

Ethical Research with Children Sarah Richards, Jessica Clark, Allison Boggis, 2015-10-26 An increasing interest in children's lives has tested the ethical and practical limits of research. Rather than making tricky ethical decisions transparent, researchers tend to gloss over stories that do not fit with sanitized narratives. This book aims to fill this gap by making explicit the lived experiences of research with children.

Ethics and Integrity in Research with Children and Young People Grace Spencer, 2021-11-04 This international and multi disciplinary edited collection unpacks some of the ethical complexities of conducting research with children and young people. The chapters in the volume offer an applied perspective to navigating contemporary and complicated ethical issues that can arise in the field of childhood and youth centred research.

Researching Children and Childhoods Sarah Richards, Sarah Coombs, 2025-07-10 Junior researchers in the field of childhood studies are often faced with many challenges that accompany research with young participants. Methodological concepts such as research relationships, positionality, self disclosure and reflexivity can sometimes become subordinate to more practical and procedural concerns. Researching Children and Childhoods frames these themes not as problems but as opportunities to deepen and strengthen research discussions and analysis. Providing students with a guide to support their ventures into research with children and young people, this book offers practical advice on writing a thesis/dissertation and will enable readers to confidently reflect on the ethical issues embedded in their own projects and recognise them as opportunities for discussion within their dissertations or theses. It demystifies the role of methodologies and positions them as essential tools for their research. It considers the efficacy of concepts such as agency, autonomy, participation, subjectivity and voice as ways of understanding childhood and children's lived experiences. It uses ideas such as positionality, self disclosure and category entitlement to recognise the integral role of researcher identity and relationships in the construction of knowledge. It encourages researchers to use their authority when writing about their own research without reducing content to descriptive opinion. Based discussions situate their research by exploring the context in which the research takes place and the power relations embedded within participants and researcher relationships. Each chapter includes a variety of researcher experiences, vignette examples and specific activities aimed at applying the key themes represented in this volume into research dissertations.

Researching Children and Youth Ingrid E. Castro, Melissa Swauger, Brent Harger, 2017-03-17 This volume seeks to directly address the problems and pitfalls that often accompany researching children and youth in today's society. This volume addresses participatory and feminist ethnographic approaches, digital mining, children's agency and navigating IRBs. Themes of space, location and identity run throughout this volume.

Understanding Children's Informal Learning Roseanna Bourke, John O'Neill, Judith Loveridge, 2024-02-19 Learning and personal development are integral to being a person, and learning and teaching are integral to life as a social being. Understanding Children's Informal Learning presents children's informal learning out of school and explores how this knowledge can enhance teaching and learning practice in the classroom      Qualitative Fieldwork with Children Lise Mogensen, Susann Fegter, Lisa Fischer, Jan Mason, Tobia Fattore, 2025-09-02 Drawing on the multinational qualitative study Children's Understandings of Well-being CUWB this unique edited collection offers practical insights into conducting fieldwork across diverse geographical social and cultural contexts using the same basic protocol The book explores the practical ethical and philosophical challenges the researchers faced and the ways in which these issues were dealt with by the different research teams Contributors provide rare insights into the diverse institutional requirements and professional practices highlighting the way research methods are embedded in contexts that are at one and the same time both local and global With contributions from experts in child well-being research from Argentina Australia Canada Chile Germany Romania South Africa Switzerland Turkey the UK and the US the book provides valuable perspectives for researchers across a wide range of settings      Researching Children and Childhoods Sarah Richards, Sarah Coombs, 2025-07-10 Junior researchers in the field of childhood studies are often faced with many challenges that accompany research with young participants Methodological concepts such as research relationships positionality self disclosure and reflexivity can sometimes become subordinate to more practical and procedural concerns Researching Children and Childhoods frames these themes not as problems but as opportunities to deepen and strengthen research discussions and analysis Providing students with a guide to support their ventures into research with children and young people this book offers practical advice on writing a thesis dissertation and will enable readers to confidently reflect on the ethical issues embedded in their own projects and recognise them as opportunities for discussion within their dissertations or thesis demystify the role of methodologies and position them as essential tools for their research consider the efficacy of concepts such as agency autonomy participation subjectivity and voice as ways of understanding childhood and children's lived experiences use ideas such as positionality self disclosure and category entitlement to recognise the integral role of researcher identity and relationships in the construction of knowledge use I authoritatively when writing about their own research without reducing content to descriptive opinion based discussions situate their research by exploring the context in which the research takes place and the power relations embedded within participants and researcher relationships Each chapter includes a variety of researcher experiences vignette examples and specific activities aimed at applying the key themes represented in this volume into research dissertations      Traditional Dwellings and Settlements Review, 2005      Index de Périodiques Canadiens, 1998      So You Want to Involve Children in Research?, 2004 This research kit is one part of a series of toolkits produced by the International Save the Children Alliance It promotes research that sees children as active agents in their own lives not passive victims or research subjects There are many ways in which children can be more actively involved in research both as respondents and as co-researchers This kit aims to give guidance on ways of approaching this work on ethical issues to be considered and on techniques that can be used Case studies from around the world draw on a rich field of participatory research with children that has developed in recent years

P 7      Guidelines for Ethical Research on Sexual Exploitation Involving Children ECPAT international (organizzazione), 2019 The Guidelines for Ethical Research on Sexual Exploitation involving Children offer a framework for ethical research design in this area They guide the reader through four steps in research design and implementation and set up a series of ethical tasks that should be undertaken in your research project
