Ritual, Emotion, and Materiality in the Early Christian World Soham Al-Suadi, Richard S.

Ascough, Richard E. DeMaris, 2021-12-30 This volume advances our understanding of early Christianity as a lived religion by approaching it through its rites the emotions and affects surrounding those rites and the material setting for the practice of them The connections between emotions and ritual between rites and their materiality and between emotions and their physical manifestation in ancient Mediterranean culture have been inadequately explored as yet especially with regard to early Christianity and its water and dining rites Readers will find all three areas ritual emotion and materiality engaged in this exemplary interdisciplinary study which provides fresh insights into early Christianity and its world Ritual Emotion and Materiality in the Early Christian World will be of special interest to interdisciplinary minded researchers seminarians and students who are attentive to theory and method and those with an interest in the New Testament and earliest Christianity It will also appeal to those working on ancient Jewish and Greco Roman religion emotion and ritual from a comparative standpoint

Generations of Feeling

Barbara H. Rosenwein, 2015-10-06 Generations of Feeling is the first book to provide a comprehensive history of emotions in pre and early modern Western Europe Charting the varieties transformations and constants of human sentiments over the course of eleven centuries Barbara H Rosenwein explores the feelings expressed in a wide range of emotional communities as well as the theories that served to inform and reflect their times Focusing specifically on groups within England and France chapters address communities as diverse as the monastery of Rievaulx in twelfth century England and the ducal court of fifteenth century Burgundy assessing the ways in which emotional norms and modes of expression respond to and in turn create their social religious ideological and cultural environments Contemplating emotions experienced on the ground as well as those theorized in the treatises of Alcuin Thomas Aquinas Jean Gerson and Thomas Hobbes this insightful study offers a profound new narrative of emotional life in the West

The Identities of

Catherine de' Medici Susan Broomhall, 2021-07-05 In The Identities of Catherine de Medici Susan Broomhall provides an innovative analysis of the representational strategies that constructed Catherine de Medici and sought to explain her behaviour and motivations Through her detailed exploration of the identities that the queen her allies supporters and clients sought to project and how contemporaries responded to them Broomhall establishes a new vision of this important sixteenth century protagonist a clearer understanding of the dialogic and dynamic nature of identity construction and reception and its consequences for Catherine de Medici s legacy memory and historiography

Dying for the nation Lucy Noakes, 2020-02-05

Death in war matters It matters to the individual threatened with their own death or the death of loved ones It matters to groups and communities who have to find ways to manage death to support the bereaved and to dispose of bodies amidst the confusion of conflict It matters to the state which has to find ways of coping with mass death that convey a sense of gratitude and respect for the sacrifice of both the victims of war and those that mourn in their wake This social and cultural history of Britain in the Second World War places death at the heart of our understanding of the British experience of conflict Drawing on a range of material Dying for the nation demonstrates just how much death matters in wartime and examines the experience management and memory of death The book will appeal to anyone with an interest in the social and cultural history of Britain in the Second World War Zionism Derek J. Penslar, 2023-06-16 Emotion lies at the heart of all national movements and Zionism is no exception For those who identify as Zionist the word connotes liberation and redemption uniqueness and vulnerability Yet for many Zionism is a source of distaste if not disgust and those who reject it are no less passionate than those who embrace it The power of such emotions helps explain why a word originally associated with territorial aspiration has survived so many years after the establishment of the Israeli state Zionism An Emotional State expertly demonstrates how the energy propelling the Zionist project originates from bundles of feeling whose elements have varied in volume intensity and durability across space and time Beginning with an original typology of Zionism and a new take on its relationship to colonialism Penslar then examines the emotions that have shaped Zionist sensibilities and practices over the course of the movement s history The resulting portrait of Zionism reconfigures how we understand Jewish identity amidst continuing debates on the role of nationalism in the modern world Generations of Feeling Barbara H.
