Computational Linguistics and Intelligent Text Processing Alexander Gelbukh, 2013-03-12 This two volume set consisting of LNCS 7816 and LNCS 7817 constitutes the thoroughly refereed proceedings of the 13th International Conference on Computer Linguistics and Intelligent Processing CICLING 2013 held on Samos Greece in March 2013 The total of 91 contributions presented was carefully reviewed and selected for inclusion in the proceedings The papers are organized in topical sections named general techniques lexical resources morphology and tokenization syntax and named entity recognition word sense disambiguation and coreference resolution semantics and discourse sentiment polarity subjectivity and opinion machine translation and multilingualism text mining information extraction and information retrieval text summarization stylometry and text simplification and applications Genetic Criticism Dirk Van Hulle, 2022-02-24 In Genetic Criticism Dirk Van Hulle introduces the study of creative processes to an Anglophone audience As a method in the study of literary writing processes genetic criticism is also a reading strategy The idea behind this book is to introduce this strategy to a broader audience from interested readers and graduate students to early career researchers and literary critics In literary studies it is often obvious that a particular work somehow seems to hit a nerve but more challenging to pinpoint exactly why it works This book therefore starts from a clear basic assumption knowing how something was made can help us understand how and why it works This strategy is at the basis of many disciplines including art history By means of X ray technology or hyperspectral imaging it is possible to look at a painting as a multilayered object with not only spatial dimensions but also a temporal one This temporal dimension is the core of the reading strategy introduced in this book Note books marginalia manuscripts and typescripts even if one works with scans give a concrete dimension to literature which is a helpful reading strategy for many students On the one hand this involves concrete transferrable skills such as aspects of transcription and digital scholarly editing On the other hand it also involves more abstract theoretical issues relating to matters of authorship collaboration authority agency intention and intertextuality Text Genetics in Literary Modernism and other Essays Hans Walter Gabler, 2018-02-20 This collection of essays from world renowned scholar Hans Walter Gabler contains writings from a decade and a half of retirement spent exploring textual criticism genetic criticism and literary criticism In these sixteen stimulating contributions he develops theories of textual criticism and editing that are inflected by our advance into the digital era structurally analyses arts of composition in literature and music and traces the cultural implications discernible in book design and in the canonisation of works of literature and their authors Distinctive and ambitious these essays move beyond the concerns of the community of critics and scholars Gabler responds innovatively to the issues involved and often endeavours to re think their urgencies by bringing together the orthodox tenets of different schools of textual criticism He moves between a variety of topics ranging from fresh genetic approaches to the work of James Joyce and Virginia Woolf to significant contributions to the theorisation of scholarly editing in the digital age Written in Gabler's fluent style these rich and elegant compositions are essential reading for literary and textual critics scholarly editors readers of James Joyce New Modernism specialists and all those interested in textual scholarship and digital editing under the umbrella of Digital Humanities Staying Open: Charles Olson's Sources and Influences Joshua S.

Middle English Texts in Transition Simon Horobin, Linne R. Mooney, 2014 Chaucer Gower and Langland Lyrics and romances Devotional writings Owners and users of medieval books A tribute to Professor Takamiya Tom Murphy's Theatre of Everyday Space Moonyoung Hong, 2025-05-08 By the time of his death in 2018 Tom Murphy was widely recognised as one of Ireland's most important modern playwrights. Ireland's experience of rapid modernisation, emigration and globalisation is vividly captured in his plays, challenging generic notions of space, place and the nation. In particular, his drama reconfigures Irish theatre's uneasy relationship with globalisation, with the peasant kitchen, the pub and the bog having traditionally been exported as the quintessential Irish spaces. Focusing on one of Murphy's central innovations, his experimentation with theatre and everyday space, the book considers the significance of Murphy's work in modern drama more broadly. The idea of home has preoccupied modern playwrights since the naturalist dramas of Henrik Ibsen and Anton Chekhov, leading theatre scholars to focus on the everyday space of the home to the exclusion of other everyday spaces. Murphy's works, by contrast, offer a new politics of the interior, engaging with a diverse range of other spaces such as dancehalls, grocery shops, pubs, hotels, offices, churches, gasworks and airports. His drama presents a global sense of the local, an emotional map of the shifting geographies of everyday life. By applying new theoretical perspectives and showcasing new archival materials inaccessible to previous scholars, the book revisits Murphy as an international playwright, a cartographer of our modern-day global village.

Samuel Beckett in Confinement James Little, 2020-05-14 Confinement appears repeatedly in Samuel Beckett's oeuvre, from the asylums central to Murphy and Watt to the images of confinement that shape plays such as Waiting for Godot and Endgame. Drawing on spatial theory and new archival research, Beckett in Confinement explores these recurring concepts of closed space to cast new light on the ethical and political dimensions of Beckett's work. Covering the full range of Beckett's writing career, including two plays he completed for prisoners, Catastrophe and the unpublished Mongrel Mime, the book shows how this engagement with the ethics of representing prisons and asylums stands at the heart of Beckett's poetics. James Little's Beckett in Confinement offers a brilliant analysis of the politics behind Beckett's production of closed space, both as a writer and as a director. It carefully examines the move from writing about closed space to creating an art of confinement. To argue that Beckett's use of confined space is central to the political dynamics of his works, James Little also superbly employs genetic criticism to open up the confined space of the published text and bring highly relevant draft materials back into the critical conversation. Dirk Van Hulle, Professor of Bibliography and Modern Book History, University of Oxford, UK. The many characters Beckett invented share one characteristic: they are all imprisoned or trapped in some way, no matter where they are. Samuel Beckett in Confinement: The Politics of Closed Space draws on untapped riches from Beckett's correspondence and the archives to reconsider the obsession with entrapment, coercion and detention central to Beckett's varied oeuvre. In this exciting and illuminating analysis, James Little offers a fresh and original reading of the work's ethical and political dimensions and shows us why we need to stop thinking about confinement as a metaphysical metaphor. Emilie Morin, Professor of Modern Literature, University of York, UK. Little breaks new ground in this expansive investigation to explore how confinement is a central component of Beckett's political aesthetics. The reader is guided by a crisp and easy style of writing as Little demonstrates a command of sources which are broad in scope but negotiated to form a compelling and impactful study Journal of Beckett Studies Text as Process Sally Bushell, 2009 The author concludes with a philosophical account of the status and meaning of the literary work as it comes into being The Johns Hopkins Guide to Literary Theory and Criticism Michael Groden, Martin Kreiswirth, Imre Szeman, 2005 Publisher Description A.U.M.L.A., 2006 Text, 2005 Manuscript Genetics Dirk van Hulle, 2008 By taking the principles of manuscript genetics and using them to engage in a comparative study of James Joyce and Samuel Beckett Dirk Van Hulle has produced a provocative work that re imagines the links between the two authors His elegant readings reveal that the most striking similarities between these two lie not in their nationality or style but in their shared fascination with the process of revision Van Hulle's thoughtful application of genetic theory the study of a work from manuscript to final form in its various iterations marks a new phase in this dynamic field of inquiry As one of only a handful of books in English dealing with this emerging area of study Manuscript Genetics Joyce's Know How Beckett's Nohow will be indispensable not only to Joyce and Beckett scholars but also to anyone interested in genetic criticism Publications of the Modern Language Association of America, 2006 Ulysses in Focus Michael Groden, 2010 What if you had never opened the book of your life Or if that book had been even a little different Ulysses in Focus takes up these vertiginous questions raveling out episodes in the writing critical reception and editing of Joyce's masterpiece and twining them together with stories from a life spent elucidating it Joyce himself would have admired the variety that Michael Groden offers us here fascinating new readings of Ulysses by its foremost genetic critic behind the scenes accounts of editorial contretemps and secret manuscript acquisitions the sorrow of shelved projects and the thrill of the bibliographic quest At its core Ulysses in Focus tells the story of a reader and a book that seem to have been destined for one another Yet its method is against destiny seeking to free texts from the published state in which they ossify by restoring to us a sense of their evolution and their contingency To read Groden is to think differently about reading and being to suspect that a book like a life might be the sum of its untaken roads Paul K Saint Amour University of Pennsylvania This is an engaging reflective and highly personal set of essays and recollections by a leading Joyce scholar It urges us to see Ulysses not as a finished monument but as a mobile piece of writing in constant dialogue with its own processes of composition and avant textes Anne Fogarty coeditor of Bloomsday 100 Essays on Ulysses Michael Groden has been at the forefront of some of the most important developments in James Joyce studies over the past three decades He was a major figure in and early adopter of genetic scholarship the method of analyzing a literary work by looking at its development from draft to draft particularly suited to Joyce's stories and novels He defended Hans Walter Gabler's Ulysses edition in the Joyce Wars and helped introduce the National Library of Ireland's new Joyce manuscripts to the world Bringing together twelve essays in three areas of Joyce criticism and scholarship this refreshing book offers various personal adventures from a life lived with Joyce's work In a manner that is at once modest rigorous and accessible Ulysses in

Processes of Literary Creation Marion Schmid, 1998 This work examines the genetic processes that shaped two of the great literary masterpieces of modernity Flaubert's L'Education Sentimentale and Proust's A la Recherche de Temps Perdu A detailed investigation of Flaubert's notebooks and scenarios from 1864 and 1869 and Proust's Cahiers from 1908 to 1911 reveals the almost diametrically opposed ways in which the two novels evolved in their early stages Westerly, 1998
