Elements Of Architecture From Form To Place:

Elements of Architecture Pierre von Meiss, 1990 This comprehensive analysis of the whole architectural phenomenon includes logical and methodical extraction of general principles from the prevailing pluralism of approaches Elements of Architecture Pierre von Meiss, 1990 This book analyzes architectural elements drawing general principles from the prevailing pluralism of architectural approaches Von Meiss bridges the gap between history and contemporary work by pinpointing the constant factors that exist in all architecture Elements of Architecture should prove useful to modern practitioners who need to make constant reference to buildings of the past It is also unique in two particular ways it does not get involved in the argument about styles that dominate today's architectural literature and it attempts a synthesis of architectural history and contemporary work Elements of Architecture, 1992 Elements of Architecture Pierre von Meiss, 1993 Elements of Architecture Pierre von Meiss, 2013 Modernity has opened the way towards a grand diversity of form However even if architecture is a cultural phenomenon this does not mean it is a product of fashion it is not ephemeral enough for that An architect just starting out is best advised to aim for the essential or to rediscover certain time tested certainties before transgressing them The first part of this work explores the means of compositional architecture followed by the interpretation of the relationships between space light and place Four or five thousand years of history has shown the resilience of certain fundamental principles intrinsic to our discipline that organizes in three dimensions the vital space of man In the second part the author provides certain keys to managing the relationship between form material and construction keeping in mind that the need to build has never been sufficient in itself to design the form of the house or the city Neither dictionary nor encyclopedia this work attempts to fill a gap it proposes an introduction to architectural design and criticism considered in the light of our time Praised by critics and used as a book of reference in numerous schools the first edition of this book has been translated into English Italian German Korean and Chinese Elements of architecture; from form to place P. van Meis, 1990 Elements of Architecture Pierre von Meiss, 1990 Elements of Architecture, 1979

Constructing a Place of Critical Architecture in China Guanghui Ding, 2016-03-09 For the past 30 years The Chinese journal Time Architecture Shidai Jianzhu has focused on publishing innovative and exploratory work by emerging architects based in private design firms who were committed to new material theoretical and pedagogical practices In doing so this book argues that the journal has engaged in the presentation and production of a particular form of critical architecture described as an intermediate criticality as a response to the particular constraints of the Chinese cultural and political context The journal's publications displayed a dual critique a resistant attitude to the dominant modes of commercial building practice characterised by rapid and large scale urban expansion and an alternative publishing practice focusing on emerging independent architectural practitioners through the active integration of theoretical debates architectural projects and criticisms This dual critique is illustrated through a careful review and analysis of the history and programme of the journal

By showing how the work of emerging architects including Yung Ho Chang Wang Shu Liu Jiakun and Urbanus are situated within the context of the journal's special thematic editions on experimental architecture exhibition group design new urban space and professional system the book assesses the contribution the journal has made to the emergence of a critical architecture in China in the context of how it was articulated debated presented and perhaps even produced within the pages of the publication itself The protagonists of critical architecture have endeavoured to construct an alternative mode of form and space with strong aesthetic and socio political implications to the predominant production of architecture under the current Chinese socialist market economy To rebel against certain forms of domination and suppression by capital and power is by no means to completely reject them rather it is to use them
