Parental Alienation, Attachment and Corrupt Law Stuart Hontree,2017-11-28 Parental alienation is when one parent needlessly programs a child to reject the other parent and often other members of the family Alienation can happen in any family very quickly and without warning severely disrupting children s development and their lifelong mental health Children subjected to these specific forms of pathological parenting and psychological control can become brainwashed induced with delusions and so enmeshed with an alienator that only protective separation will enable them to quickly regain a normal mental health profile Effective interventions are however denied by professionals and courts Instead parents grandparents and wider family members can be legitimately ostracised from children overnight by alienators often with the active collaboration of several agencies of state not least social workers and family judges Stuart Hontree a pseudonym details the risks involved with private family courts and how they often ruin or sever biological and family connections He collates the principles of psychology and medical experts with how family courts deal with and contribute to the growing problem of parental alienation The literature of leading clinical forensic and psychotherapeutic experts who form the foundations for best practice is then compared to the normal practices of the UK family courts that deal with parental alienation. The results are shocking. The neurology of the human attachment system that drives us to form intimate bonds is explained and how its disruption and manipulation by alienators destroys childhoods and wider families. The book is full of advice on how to spot the warning signs, typical alienation strategies and how to try to insulate children against the risky effects. There are survival tips for targeted parents and a crash course in the relevant law. Attachment science is however ignored by the court's child professionals enabling their construction of an alternative reality where anything and everything goes, producing inconsistent perspectives and decisions regardless of the law, case facts, science or the likely outcome for a child. Any professional's ill-informed or morally disengaged opinion, mistake, abuse or obscenity can be retrospectively smoothed over in a secret court simply by manipulating language and judging it was done in a child's best interests. Dozens of real cases and judgments are analysed through a clinical and forensic lens. The conduct and reasoning of family court professionals in secret courts is scrutinised. The institutions and behaviours of the family court judiciary, social and legal professions and the civil service are evaluated within the models of organisational and corruption research. The conclusion drawn from the consistent evidence from the cases monitored is that instead of using or developing informed processes and reasoning, these institutions abuse the secrecy of the courts to engage in covert political and corporate activism, failing in their duty to protect children, often misusing their authority and veil from public view to inflict and cover up the damage of inadequate, inimical and sometimes wholly corrupt processes on families. The book also shows how sincere attempts by Parliament to reform family courts are persistently scuppered by the civil service, court agencies and the judiciary, so no positive changes designed to help vulnerable or alienated children are ever implemented.

The Child Who Hates Her Father and the Mother Who Caused It!
Cleland James, 2016-12-14

The law only perceives 7 states in the United States that Parental Alienation Syndrome is still an issue, which leaves the other 43 states with no law on the books to battle this terrible issue. There is nothing on planet Earth that is more damaging to a parent than losing a child whom they have a favorable opinion of because of an attachment-based coalition with a child and the alienating parent, which drives later to Adult Child Estrangement from family. Due to the control of the court framework and clear mishandling of process with these issues, these painstakingly executed cases have permitted the many alienating parents to legitimize kidnapping of the children. Cleland composed this book to impart to the greater part of the parents who have confronted Parental Alienation Syndrome and Adult Child Estrangement to inform you that you are not alone, that there are others out there who have confronted similar difficulties and yet others who are now going through Parental Alienation for the first time. Where are the government policies regarding children to manage these issues? Where are the privileges of the estranged parent? Where are the equal rights of the Alienated Parent? Regulations need to change and legislators need to understand this major issue still exists and is not simply going to leave. There are just 7 states that perceive this issue and are taking action on the issue, so shouldn't something be said about the rest? Do the lawmakers believe that Parental Alienation is simply going to settle itself Why then are there parents out there in today s society as yet battling the issue with Parental Alienation Syndrome and Estrangement and creating long term harm to the children As seen on NBC News West 9 <http://www.newswest9.com/story/34109078> a book about a us marine fighting a personal battle with parental alienation syndromeand many other news sites Get Your Copy Today KeyWords Parental Alienation Syndrome Adult Child Estrangement Child Abuse False Allegations Parent Brainwashing Child Legalized Kidnapping Child Hates Parent PAS
