Ripcord Keith Nolan, 2007-12-18. On April 10, 1970, Hill 927 was occupied by troops of the Screaming Eagles of the 101st Airborne Division. By July, the activities of the artillery and infantry of Ripcord had caught the attention of the NVA (North Vietnamese Army), and a long and deadly siege ensued. Ripcord was the Screaming Eagles' last chance to do significant damage to the NVA in the A Shau Valley before the division was withdrawn from Vietnam and returned to the United States. At Ripcord, the enemy counterattacked with ferocity, using mortar and anti-aircraft fire to inflict heavy casualties on the units operating there. The battle lasted four and a half months and exemplified the ultimate frustration of the Vietnam War: the inability of the American military to bring to bear its enormous resources to win on the battlefield. In the end, the 101st evacuated Ripcord, leaving the NVA in control of the battlefield. Contrary to the mantra "We won every battle but lost the war," the United States was defeated at Ripcord. Now, at last, the full story of this terrible battle can be told.

Dispatches Michael Herr, 2011-11-30. The best book to have been written about the Vietnam War. The New York Times Book Review: an instant classic straight from the front lines. From its terrifying opening pages to its final eloquent words, Dispatches makes us see in unforgettable and unflinching detail the chaos and fervor of the war and the surreal insanity of life in that singular combat zone. Michael Herr's unsparing, unorthodox retellings of the day-to-day events in Vietnam take on the force of poetry, rendering clarity from one of the most incomprehensible and nightmarish events of our time. Dispatches is among the most blistering and compassionate accounts of war in our literature.

With the Screaming Eagles in Vietnam Roger Borroel, 2016-05-13.

The Eyes of the Eagle Gary Linderer, 2010-05-12. In the 101st Airborne, if you cared enough to send the very best, you sent The Howlers. Gary Linderer volunteered for the Army, then volunteered for Airborne training. When he reached Vietnam in 1968, he was assigned to the famous Screaming Eagles, the 101st Airborne Division. Once there, he volunteered for training and duty with F Company, 58th Inf, the Long Range Patrol company that was the Eyes of the Eagle. F Company pulled reconnaissance missions and ambushes, and Linderer recounts night insertions into enemy territory, patrols against NVA anti-aircraft emplacements and rocket launching facilities, the fragging of an unpopular company commander, and one of the bravest demonstrations of courage under fire that has ever been described. The Eyes of the Eagle is an accurate, exciting look at the recon soldier's war. There are none better.

Ehrhart,2022-11-22 From 1969 to 1974 Ehrhart was just passing time His reentry into the world began with his enrollment as a 21 year old freshman and token Vietnam vet at Swarthmore College At first simply trying to bury his past Ehrhart slowly came to understand what happened to him and why in Vietnam Interspersed are flashbacks to the war itself It is the story of political and personal awakening As the war dragged on the United States deceitful involvement and its perpetuation of fallacies and lies about the war s conduct forced Ehrhart to confront his own feelings about his government country and self Throughout the reader shares with Ehrhart his odyssey through naivete growing awareness angry withdrawal and finally a measure of peace I Heard My Country Calling James Webb,2014-05-20 In this brilliantly received memoir former senator James Webb has outdone himself It is rare in America that one individual is recognized for the highest levels of combat valor as a respected member of the literary and journalistic world and as a blunt spoken leader in national politics In this extraordinary memoir Webb writes vividly about the early years that shaped such a remarkable personal journey Webb s mother grew up in the poverty stricken cotton fields of East Arkansas His father and lifetime hero was the first in many generations of Webbs whose roots are in Appalachia to finish high school He flew bombers in World War II and cargo planes in the Berlin Airlift graduated from college in middle age and became an expert in the nation s most advanced weaponry Webb s account of his childhood is a tremendous American saga as the family endures the constant moves and challenges of the rarely examined post World War II military with a stern but emotionally invested father a loving mother who had borne four children by the age of twenty four a granite like grandmother who held the family together during his father s frequent deployments and a rich assortment of aunts siblings and cousins Webb tells of his four years at Annapolis in a voice that is painfully honest but in the end triumphant His description of Vietnam s most brutal battlefields breaks new literary ground One of the most highly decorated combat Marines of that war he is a respected expert on the history and conduct of the war Webb s novelist s eyes and ears invest this work with remarkable power whether he is describing the resiliency that grew from constant relocations during his childhood the longing for his absent father his poignant good bye to his parents as he leaves for Vietnam his role as a twenty three year old lieutenant through months of constant combat or his election to the Senate where he was a leader on national defense foreign policy and economic fairness This is a life that could happen only in America Letters from Vietnam Bill Adler,2007-12-18 No heroes everyone did their part and everyone was scared to death They are the words of soldier Mark W Harms in 1968 summing up his combat experience during the Vietnam War His stunning letter home is just one of hundreds featured in this unforgettable collection Letters from Vietnam In these affecting pages are the unadorned voices of men and women who fought and in some cases fell in America s most controversial war They bring new insights and imagery to a conflict that still haunts our hearts consciences and the conduct of our foreign policy Here are the early days of the fight when adopting a kitten finding gold in a stream or helping a local woman give birth were moments of beauty amid the brutality shattering first person accounts of firefights ambushes and bombings I know I will never be the same Joe Marine Joe Pais and thoughtful pained reflections on the purpose and progress of the entire Southeastern Asian cause All these lies about how we re winning and what a great job we re doing It s just not the same as WWII or the Korean War Lt John S Taylor Here too are letters as vivid as scenes from a film Brenda Rodgers s description of her wedding to a soldier on the steps of Saigon City Hall Airman First Class Frank Pilson s recollection of President Johnson s ceremonial dinner with the troops He looks tired and worn out his is not an easy job and perhaps most poignant Emil Spadafora s beseeching of his mother to help him adopt an orphan who is a village s only survivor This boy has nothing and his future holds nothing for him over here From fervent patriotism to awakening opposition Letters from Vietnam captures the unmistakable echoes of this earlier era as well as timeless expressions of hope horror fear and faith The Mailman Went Ua David W. Mulldune,2013-01-07 Some readers will be upset by the use of racial references some will be upset by the vulgar language some by the stark brutality some by the sexual references I can sanitize my manuscript and give the reader a false sense of how war reduces the humanity of an individual Not only that but sanitizing the past distorts history and lulls a person into a nonchalant manner of behavior in determining courses of action The end result is that I would defeat the purpose that compelled me to write my book in the first place So what is the point I hope that you understand what I am trying to achieve As I put this book together over the years I constantly questioned my ability and skill to compose my manuscript in a cohesive manner and even my right to do it but here it is I think the main problems were that I couldn t look at it objectively and that I tried to write it as an 18 19 year old I wanted to present the naivet and immaturity which had awesome power and control over life and death At the same time naivet and immaturity could strangle you The title The Mailman Went UA came from our little song and dance routine that we performed when we didn t receive any mail It reflected the utter desolation of aloneness and heartbreak that extended beyond the lack of mail to who you were as a human being and that impact is impossible to shake The mail was our only touch with any degree of normalcy It was more than a connection with the World It was the essential element in preserving our sanity We were surrounded by death and destruction and became unfazed by them but we were always hit hard when we didn t receive any
