Ecocriticism On The Edge The Anthropocene As A Threshold Concept:

Ecocriticism on the Edge Timothy Clark, 2015-09-24 The twenty first century has seen an increased awareness of the forms of environmental destruction that cannot immediately be seen localised or by some even acknowledged Ecocriticism on the Edge explores the possibility of a new mode of critical practice one fully engaged with the destructive force of the planetary environmental crisis Timothy Clark argues that in literary and cultural criticism the Anthropocene which names the epoch in which human impacts on the planet's ecological systems reach a dangerous limit also represents a threshold at which modes of interpretation that once seemed sufficient or progressive become in this new counterintuitive context inadequate or even latently destructive The book includes analyses of literary works including texts by Paule Marshall Gary Snyder Ben Okri Henry Lawson Lorrie Moore and Raymond Carver

The Palgrave Handbook of Intermediality Jørgen Bruhn, Asun López-Varela Azcárate, Miriam de Paiva Vieira, 2023-12-01 This handbook provides an extensive overview of traditional and emerging research areas within the field of intermediality studies understood broadly as the study of interrelations among all forms of communicative media types including transmedial phenomena Section I offers accounts of the development of the field of intermediality its histories theories and methods Section II and III then explore intermedial facets of communication from ancient times until the 21st century with discussion on a wide range of cultural and geographical settings media types and topics by contributors from a diverse set of disciplines It concludes in Section IV with an emphasis on urgent societal issues that an intermedial perspective might help understand

Interrogating Eco-Literature and Sustainable Development Sharbani Banerjee Mukherjee, Soumitra Roy, 2023-05-17 This book examines the issues of ecological crisis and sustainable development through critical reading of literary texts By analysing writings of Rabindranath Tagore Amitav Ghosh Gerard Manley Hopkins Hannah Arendt and Lawrence Buell it discusses themes like oriental representations of ecological consciousness environmental evocations misogyny and its postmodern creations tracing nature's footprints in English literature statelessness and consequent environmental refugees ecocriticism and comics and absolute trust in the goodness of the earth The volume argues that within the ambit of debates between ecological threats and socio economic concerns culture plays a vital role particularly in relation to parameters such as identity and engagement memory and projection gender and generations inquiry and learning wellbeing and health This book will be of interest to scholars and researchers of cultural studies English literature social anthropology gender studies sustainable development environmental studies ecological studies development studies and post colonial studies

Climate Crisis and the 21st-Century British Novel Astrid Bracke, 2017-11-02 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open Access programme and is available on www.bloomsburycollections.com The challenge of rapid climate change is forcing us to rethink traditional attitudes to nature This book is the first study to chart these changing attitudes in 21st century British fiction Climate Crisis and the 21st Century British Novel examines twelve works that reflect growing cultural awareness of climate crisis and participate in the reshaping of the stories that surround it Central to this renegotiation are four narratives environmental collapse pastoral urban and polar Bringing ecocriticism into dialogue with narratology and a new body of contemporary writing Astrid Bracke explores a wide range of texts from Zadie Smith's NW through Sarah Hall's The Carhullan Army and David Mitchell's Cloud Atlas to the work of a new generation of novelists such as Melissa Harrison and Ross Raisin As the book shows post millennial fictions provide the imaginative space in which to rethink the stories we tell about ourselves and the natural world in a time of crisis Fiction and the Sixth Mass Extinction Jonathan Elmore, 2020-04-01 Fiction and the Sixth Mass Extinction is one of the first works to focus specifically on fiction's engagements with human driven extinction Drawing together a diverse group of scholars and approaches this volume pairs established voices in the field with emerging scholars and traditionally recognized climate fiction cli fi with texts and media typically not associated with Anthropocene fictions The result is a volume that both engages with and furthers existing work on Anthropocene fiction as well as laying groundwork for the budding subfield of extinction fiction This volume takes up the collective insistence on the centrality of story to extinction studies In various and disparate ways each chapter engages with the stories we tell about extinction about the extinction of animal and plant life and about the extinction of human life itself Answering the call to action of extinction studies these chapters explore what kinds of humanity caused this event and what kinds may live through it what cultural assumptions and values led to this event and which ones could lead out of it what relationships between human life and this planet allowed the sixth mass extinction and what alternative relationships could be possible Eco Culture Robert Bell, Robert Ficociello, 2017-11-15 The edited collection Eco Culture Disaster Narrative Discourse opens a conversation about the mediated relationship between culture and ecology The dynamic between these two great forces comes into stark relief when a disaster in its myriad forms and narratives reveals the fragility of our ecological and cultural landscapes Disasters are the clashing of culture and ecology in violent and tragic ways and the results of each clash create profound effects to both So much so in fact that the terms ecology and culture are past separation We are far removed from their prior historical binaric connection and they coincide through a supplementary role to each other Ecology and culture are unified Contemporary Irish Poetry and the Climate Crisis Andrew J. Auge, Eugene O'Brien, 2021-11-29 Contemporary Irish Poetry and the Climate Crisis addresses what is arguably the most crucial issue of human history through the lens of late twentieth and early twenty first century Irish poetry The poets that it surveys range from familiar presences in the contemporary Irish literary canon Seamus Heaney Derek Mahon Paula Meehan Moya Cannon to lesser known figures such as the experimental poet Maurice Scully contemporary poets Stephen Sexton and Sean Hewitt and the Irish language poets Simon Faol in Br d N Mh r in and M ire Dinny Wren Adopting a variety of ecotheoretical approaches the essays gathered here address several interrelated themes crucial to the climate crisis the way in which the scalar scope of climate change interweaves local and global distant past and imminent future nature and culture the critical importance of acknowledging the complex kinship of the human and nonhuman and the necessity of warning against the devastating environmental losses to come while mourning those that already occurred Ultimately by envisioning new ways of existing on an earth that humans no longer dominate this book engages in what the philosopher Jonathan Lear refers to as a process of radical anticipation Monatshefte ,2019 Ariel ,2015 The Value of Ecocriticism Timothy Clark,2019-02-07 This book offers a brief incisive accessible overview of the fast changing field of environmental literary criticism in an age of global environmental threat Westerly ,2020 Close Reading the Anthropocene Helena Feder,2021-06-09 Reading poetry and prose images and art literary and critical theory science and cultural studies Close Reading the Anthropocene explores the question of meaning its importance and immanent potential for loss in the new geological epoch of the Anthropocene Both close reading and scientific ecology prioritize slowing down and looking around to apprehend similarities and differences to recognize and value interconnections Here close suggests careful attention to both the reading subject and read object Moving between places rocks plants animals atmosphere and eclipses this interdisciplinary edited collection grounds the complex relations between text and world in the environmental humanities The volume s wide ranging chapters are critical often polemical engagements with the question of the Anthropocene and the changing conversation around reading interpretation and textuality They exemplify a range of work from across the globe and will be of great interest to scholars and students of the environmental humanities ecocriticism and literary studies

German Ecocriticism in the Anthropocene Caroline Schaumann,Heather I. Sullivan,2017-04-18 This book offers essays on both canonical and non canonical German language texts and films advancing ecocritical models for German Studies and introducing environmental issues in German literature and film to a broader audience This volume contextualizes the broad ranging topics and authors in terms of the Anthropocene beginning with Goethe and the Romantics and extending into twenty first century literature and film Addressing the growing need for environmental awareness in an international humanities curriculum this book complements ecocritical analyses emerging from North American and British studies with a specifically German Studies perspective opening the door to a transnational understanding of how the environment plays an integral role in cultural political and economic issues The Anthropocene Eva Horn,Hannes Bergthaller,2019-09-11 The Anthropocene is a concept which challenges the foundations of humanities scholarship as it is traditionally understood It calls not only for closer engagement with the natural sciences but also for a synthetic approach bringing together insights from the various subdisciplines in the humanities and social sciences which have addressed themselves to ecological questions in the past This book is an introduction to and structured survey of the attempts that have been made to take the measure of the Anthropocene and explores some of the paradigmatic problems which it raises The difficulties of an introduction to the Anthropocene lie not only in the disciplinary breadth of the subject but also in the rapid pace at which the surrounding debates have been and still are unfolding This introduction proposes a conceptual map which however provisionally charts these ongoing discussions across a variety of scientific and humanistic disciplines This book will be essential reading for students and researchers in the environmental humanities particularly in literary and cultural studies history philosophy and environmental studies The End of the Anthropocene Michael J. Gormley, 2021-06-28 In The End of the Anthropocene Ecocriticism the Universal Ecosystem and the Astropocene Michael J Gormley examines literary imaginings of the Anthropocene's end and the Astropocene's beginning when humans are no longer bound to the blue planet on which we evolved Gormley analyzes literary images of human tracks on Earth the Moon and Mars to characterize the late stage Anthropocene and to explore humanity's role in the universal ecosystem The End of the Anthropocene uses a predictive and paradigmatic model of ecocriticism examining science fiction works as interplanetary nature narratives

Anthropocene Alerts Timothy W. Luke, 2019-12 A collection of essays by Timothy W Luke discussing social and political issues related to ecology environmentalism ecocriticism global climate change and the Anthropocene Environmental Humanities Serpil Oppermann, Serenella Iovino, 2016-11-30 This important volume brings together scientific cultural literary historical and philosophical perspectives to offer new understandings of the critical issues of our ecological present and new models for the creation of alternative ecological futures At a time when the narrative and theoretical threads of the environmental humanities are more entwined than ever with the scientific ethical and political challenges of the global ecological crisis this volume invites us to rethink the Anthropocene the posthuman and the environmental from various cross disciplinary viewpoints The book enriches the environmental debate with new conceptual tools and revitalizes thematic and methodological collaborations in the trajectory of ecocriticism and the environmental humanities Alliances between the humanities and the social and natural sciences are vital in addressing and finding viable solutions to our planetary predicaments Drawing on cutting edge studies in all the major fields of the eco cultural debate the chapters in this book build a creative critical discourse that explores challenges and enhances the field of environmental humanities Readings in the Anthropocene Sabine Wilke, Japhet Johnstone, 2017-09-21 Readings in the Anthropocene brings together scholars from German Studies and beyond to interpret the German tradition of the last two hundred years from a perspective that is mindful of the challenge posed by the concept of the Anthropocene This new age of man unofficially pronounced in 2000 holds that humans are becoming a geological force in shaping the Earth's future Among the biggest challenges facing our future are climate change accelerated species loss and a radical transformation of land use What are the historical philosophical cultural literary and artistic responses to this new concept The essays in this volume bring German culture to bear on what it means to live in the Anthropocene from a historical ethical and aesthetic perspective Ecocriticism and the Anthropocene in Nineteenth-Century Art and Visual Culture Maura Coughlin, Emily Gephart, 2019-09-06 In this volume emerging and established scholars bring ethical and political concerns for the environment nonhuman animals and social justice to the study of nineteenth century visual culture They draw their theoretical inspiration from the vitality of emerging critical discourses such as new materialism ecofeminism critical animal studies food studies object oriented ontology and affect theory This timely volume looks back at the early decades of the Anthropocene to query the agency of visual culture to critique create and maintain more resilient and biologically diverse local and global ecologies The Anthropocenic Turn GABRIELE DÜRBECK, PHILIP HÜPKES, 2020-03-12 This interdisciplinary volume discusses whether the increasing salience of the Anthropocene concept in the humanities and the social sciences constitutes an Anthropocenic turn The Anthropocene discourse creates novel conceptual configurations and enables scholars to re negotiate and re contextualize long established paradigms premises theories and methodologies These innovative constellations stimulate fresh research in many areas of thought and practice The contributors to this volume respond to the proposition of an Anthropocene turn from the perspective of diverse research fields including history of science philosophy environmental humanities and political science as well as literary art and media studies Altogether the collection reveals to which extent the Anthropocene concept challenges deep seated assumptions across disciplines It invites readers to explore the wealth of scholarly perspectives on the Anthropocene as well as unexpected inter and transdisciplinary connections
