Doing Qualitative Research Differently A Psychosocial Approach:

Doing Qualitative Research Differently Wendy Hollway, Tony Jefferson, 2012-11-12 Hollway and Jefferson have updated their ground breaking book for students and researchers looking to do qualitative research differently The new edition critically reviews many of the assumptions claims and methods of qualitative research and also acts as a how to guide to the method the authors call the Free Association Narrative Interview In the new edition the authors situate their arguments firmly within a tradition of psychosocial research and show how their method has developed over the last decade The book follows this approach through the phases of empirical research practice At each stage they use examples from their own research and end with an extended case study which demonstrates the value of their method in producing a psychosocial research subject that is one with socially imbued depth complexity and biographical uniqueness

Doing Qualitative Research Differently Wendy Hollway, Tony Jefferson, 2000-04-28 This is both a how to book and one that critically reviews many of the assumptions claims and methods of qualitative research Applying a psycho social understanding of subjectivity to research practice involves conceptualising researcher and researched as co producers of meanings in the research relationship The authors use the notion of the defended subject to indicate that people will defend themselves against any anxieties in the information they provide in a research context To interpret interviewees responses should entail developing a method in which narratives are central as should a strategy of interpretation in which interviewees free associations are given precedence over narrative coherence The author

The SAGE Handbook of Criminological Research Methods David Gadd, Susanne Karstedt, Steven F Messner, 2011-10-19 Conducting research into crime and criminal justice carries unique challenges This Handbook focuses on the application of methods to address the core substantive questions that currently motivate contemporary criminological research It maps a canon of methods that are more elaborated than in most other fields of social science and the intellectual terrain of research problems with which criminologists are routinely confronted Drawing on exemplary studies chapters in each section illustrate the techniques qualitative and quantitative that are commonly applied in empirical studies as well as the logic of criminological enquiry Organized into five sections each prefaced by an editorial introduction the Handbook covers Crime and Criminals Contextualizing Crimes in Space and Time Networks Communities and Culture Perceptual Dimensions of Crime Criminal Justice Systems Organizations and Institutions Preventing Crime and Improving Justice Edited by leaders in the field of criminological research and with contributions from internationally renowned experts The SAGE Handbook of Criminological Research Methods is set to become the definitive resource for postgraduates researchers and academics in criminology criminal justice policing law and sociology David Gadd is Professor of Criminology at Manchester University School of Law where he is also Director of the Centre for Criminology and Criminal Justice Susanne Karstedt has a Chair in Criminology and Criminological Justice at the University of Leeds Steven F Messner is Distinguished Teaching Professor of Sociology University at Albany State University of New York

Re-envisioning Psychology Parul Bansal, 2024-04-24 This book studies the ideological nature of mainstream scientific psychology. It raises critical questions about the dominant forms of psychological theorization and praxis based on their validity, social relevance, and power privileges. Re-envisioning Psychology critically interrogates scientific images of the mind, individual, gender, development, society, and culture that mainstream psychology promotes. The issues taken up in this book revolve around the pivotal concerns of psychology's scientific basis, its dominant quantitative research methodology, the construction of individual as the unit of analysis, the conceptualization of social, cultural, and gender in relation to individualism, and the understanding of abnormality as shaped by the discourses of medical science and capitalism. Comprehensive and topical, the book will be useful to students, researchers, and teachers of psychology, applied psychology, social work, gender, and women studies, and sociology. It will also be of interest to professional counsellors and psychotherapists.

The Routledge Companion to Criminological Theory and Concepts Avi Brisman, Eamonn Carrabine, Nigel South, 2018-07-03 A comprehensive one-stop reference text, The Routledge Companion to Criminological Theory and Concepts will find a place on every bookshelf, whether it be that of a budding scholar or a seasoned academic. Comprising over a hundred concise and authoritative essays written by leading scholars in the field, this volume explains in a clear and inviting way the emergence, context, evolution, and current status of key criminological theories and conceptual themes. The Companion is divided into six historical and thematic parts, each introduced by the editors and containing a selection of accessible and engaging short essays written specifically for this text: Foundations of criminological thought and contemporary revitalizations; The emergence and growth of American criminology; From appreciation to critique; Late critical criminologies and new directions; Punishment and security; Geographies of crime. Comprehensive cross-referencing between entries will provide the reader with signposts to later developments, to critiques, and to associated theoretical developments explored within the book, and lists of further reading in every entry will encourage independent thinking and study. This book is an essential reference work for criminology students at all levels and is the perfect companion for courses on criminological theory.

Social Work and Sociology: Historical and Contemporary Perspectives Irene Levin, Marit Haldar, Aurélie Picot, 2018-02-05 Discussing the relationship between social work and sociology, this book explores how the two have become more and more divided, moving from one single discipline to two separate but related fields. Both sociology and social work focus on social problems, social structure, social integration, and how individuals respond to and live within cultural and structural constraints. Today, both disciplines face the possibility of losing some of their most important characteristics to individualising trends, the disappearance of the importance of the social, and pressure towards solely evidence-based knowledge. In addition to casting light on areas that have been in the shadows of the mainstream narrative, the contributions to this book will raise new questions, contributing to continuing discussions between and within each discipline. This book was originally published as a special issue of Nordic Social Work Research.

The Palgrave

Handbook of Critical Social Psychology Brendan Gough, 2025-05-19 This handbook is the second edition of a highly cited and impactful collection which was the first to bring together the latest theory and research on critical approaches to social psychological challenges Edited by a leading authority in the field the volume helped to establish critical social psychology as a discipline of study distinct from mainstream social psychology The book helps to explain how critical approaches to social processes and phenomena are essential to fully understanding them and covers the main research topics in basic and applied social psychology including social cognition identity and social relations alongside overviews of the main theories and methodologies that underpin critical approaches This second edition adds four new chapters from two UK authors one US and one from New Zealand on the subjects of Indigenous Psychologies M ori communities Deleuze and arts based research It also adds a new introduction from the editor This volume features a range of leading authors working on key social psychological issues and highlights a commitment to a social psychology which shuns psychologisation reductionism and neutrality It provides invaluable insight into many of the most pressing and distressing issues we face in modern society including the migrant and refugee crises affecting Europe the devaluing of black lives in the USA and the poverty ill health and poor mental well being that has resulted from ever increasing austerity efforts in the UK Including sections on critical perspectives critical methodologies and critical applications this volume also focuses on issues within social cognition self and identity This one stop handbook is an indispensable resource for a range of academics students and researchers in the fields of psychology and sociology and particularly those with an interest in social identity power relations and critical interventions

Citizenship Gail Lewis, 2004 Citizenship is both one of the most taken for granted and most contested ideas in British social policy This textbook brings a new dimension to the citizenship literature by using citizenship as a lens through which to explore the relation between personal lives and social policy Narrative Inquiry, 2005

Biographical Research Brian Roberts, 2002 This book considers the methodological and theoretical questions associated with the use of life stories oral histories personal narratives autobiographies and biographies as they are incorporated into sociological ethnographic and narrative studies The collection and interpretation of materials the uses of biographical research the interview relationship the construction of the story memory and audience are all considered Roberts teaches sociology at the University of Huddersfield The book is distributed by Taylor and Francis Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

White Identities Simon Clarke, Steve Garner, 2010-02-15 The study of white ethnicities is becoming increasingly important in the social sciences This book provides a critical introduction to the topic Whiteness has traditionally been seen as ethnically transparent the marker against which other ethnicities are measured This analysis is clearly incorrect but only recently have many race and ethnicity scholars moved away from focusing on ethnic minorities and instead oriented their studies around the construction of white identities Simon Clarke and Steve Garner s book is designed to guide students as they explore how white identities are forged using both sociological and psycho social ideas Including an excellent survey of the existing literature and original research from the UK this book will be an invaluable guide for sociology students taking modules in race and ethnicity

Psychosocial Aspects of Cleft Lip and Palate Mirjam Kalland,1995 This study focused on the psychosocial aspects of cleft lip and or palate on maternal emotional reactions and the family with emphasis on the effect on the maternal infant bond Interviews were conducted with 40 mothers of 1 year old infants with non syndromic cleft lip and or palate The interviews were analyzed using the phenomenological method which is explained The focus was the unique interpretation of the mothers experiences The main result was that a defect that interfered with feeding disturbed the early maternal infant bonding process more than a defect that only interfered with the child s appearance Additional findings include the birth of a child with a cleft is considered a shock by most mothers the most severe problem has been the feeding problem surgery even if desired is considered as a shock by most of the mothers feelings of depression fear or bitterness are common among mothers of infants with a cleft and the information that the mothers received at the hospital when the baby was born was inadequate Descriptions are included for three cases involving different types of cleft cleft palate cleft lip and cleft lip and palate Implications for parent education are discussed such as the importance of providing parental support to facilitate successful parenting parents need for information and the importance of contact and a sense of community Contains 209 references SW
