Domestic Application Echr Faithful International:

The Max Planck Handbooks in European Public Law Armin von Bogdandy, Huber Peter M., Christoph Grabenwarter, 2023-04-13 The Max Planck Handbooks in European Public Law series describes and analyzes the public law of the European legal space an area that encompasses not only the law of the European Union but also the European Convention on Human Rights and importantly the domestic public laws of European states Recognizing that the ongoing vertical and horizontal processes of European integration render legal comparison the task of our time for both scholars and practitioners the project aims to foster a better understanding of the specific European legal pluralism and ultimately to contribute to the legitimacy and efficiency of European public law The first volume of the series began this endeavour with an appraisal of the evolution of the state and its administration offering both cross cutting contributions and specific country reports The third volume the second in chronological terms continues this approach with an in depth appraisal of constitutional adjudication in various and diverse European countries Fourteen country reports and two cross cutting contributions investigate the antecedents foundations organization procedure and specific approach to constitutional issues throughout the Continent The fourth volume now compares European constitutional jurisdiction in the European legal space It examines the structures of the organization the appointment of judges the procedures and the methods of argumentation and interpretation their impact on state and society their legitimacy as well as their role in the division of powers and thus completes the picture following the country reports in Volume III This comparative perspective is supplemented by an examination that illustrates the relationship with the ECJ the ECtHR and the Venice Commission as well as their constitutional function Finally Constitutional Adjudication Common Themes and Challenges is devoted to the challenges constitutional jurisdiction in the European judicial area is currently facing The historical political and theoretical foundations as well as the basic dogmatic features of constitutional jurisdiction are presented in such a way that the discussion about its role and further development in this legal space is sustainably stimulated Framing a Convention Community

Cedric Marti, 2021-11-18 An innovative and interdisciplinary perspective on the authority and far reaching impact of the European Convention on Human Rights Animals and the Constitution John Olusegun Adenitire, Raffael Fasel, 2025-03-23 Constitutionalism the idea that constitutions should limit and direct government power has emerged as the global standard for the exercise of public authority Its appeal lies in the simple idea that constitutions should secure governance in the interests of the governed Yet its popularity has obscured a significant problem constitutions are centred on the interests of rational human beings neglecting those who lack such capacities most notably non human animals Animals and the Constitution breaks new ground by challenging the human centredness of current constitutional theory and practices It pioneers a more capacious account of constitutionalism sentience based constitutionalism which is grounded in respect for the interests of all governed sentient beings The book demonstrates how this account can be implemented in modern constitutions by rethinking four key principles of constitutionalism fundamental rights proportionality rule of law and democracy To illustrate how these principles can be reimagined to protect the interests of both humans and animals the book draws on and examines numerous real world examples ranging from judicial recognitions of wild animal rights in Ecuador to direct democratic votes on primate rights in Switzerland to entire proposed bills of rights for animals in Finland A unique combination of constitutional theory animal ethics and comparative constitutional law this book offers a practical blueprint for constitutions to address the moral and legal status of sentient beings

Comparative Reasoning in European Supreme Courts Michal Bobek, 2013-08-08 The last two decades have witnessed an exponential growth in debates on the use of foreign law by courts Different labels have been attached to the same phenomenon judges drawing inspiration from outside of their national legal systems for solving purely domestic disputes By doing so the judges are said to engage in cross border judicial dialogues They are creating a larger transnational community of judges This book puts similar claims to test in relation to highest national jurisdictions supreme and constitutional courts in Europe today How often and why do judges choose to draw inspiration from foreign materials in solving domestic cases The book addresses these questions from both an empirical and a theoretical angle Empirically the genuine use of comparative arguments by national highest courts in five European jurisdictions is examined England and Wales France Germany the Czech Republic and Slovakia On the basis of comparative discussion of the practice and its national theoretical underpinning in these and partially also in other European systems an overreaching theoretical framework for the current judicial use of comparative arguments is developed Drawing on the author's own past judicial experience in a national supreme court this book is a critical account of judicial engagement with foreign authority in Europe today The sober middle ground inductively conceptualized and presented in this book provides solid jurisprudential foundations for the ongoing use of comparative arguments by courts as well as its further scholarly discussion

The Right to Political Participation Gabriella Citroni, Irene Spigno, Palmina Tanzarella, 2022-01-27 This book provides a comparative analysis of how judgments from the European Court of Human Rights ECtHR and the Inter American Court of Human Rights IACtHR affect political participation and electoral justice at the national level Looking at specific countries the work analyses the legal impact the implementation of the ECtHR and the IACtHR judgments has with a specific focus on cases in which the regional court concerned uses the democratic argument that is an argument related to democracy and political rights The reasoning is that although democracy is a much wider concept judgments concerning violations of political rights and electoral justice provide reliable indicators to assess the status and sustainability of democracy in a State Moreover the analysis of the violations of political rights and electoral justice allows an in depth comparison between the two regional human rights systems Mindful of the broader scope of the fall out generated by the non implementation of judgments including in socio economic terms the book includes a section exploring how judgments issued by the ECtHR and the IACtHR affect voters participation in the countries under their jurisdiction To this end an original dataset including the 47 Member States of the Council of Europe and the 20 countries which recognised the adjudicatory jurisdiction of the IACtHR is built Multidisciplinary in aim and scope of analysis the book will be an invaluable resource for researchers academics and policy makers working in the areas of constitutional law international human rights law and political economy

Domestic Application of the ECHR Eirik Bjorge, 2015 A critique of how domestic courts in the EU apply the European Convention on Human Rights and interact with the European Court of Human Rights at Strasbourg It considers the British French and German approaches to the ECHR and shows that domestic courts apply and develop the Convention faithfully and positively and comprehensive treatment of issues which continue to pose the greatest challenge to democratic states General International Law Before Human Rights Courts Frédéric Vanneste, 2010 This book analyzes how the European Court of Human Rights ECtHR and the Inter American Court of Human Rights IACtHR deal with general international law In light of the concerns of various authors about the fragmentation of international law and the human rightist aspirations of human rights law the question arises whether these human rights courts put the unity of general international law into danger The main idea of this study is that the ECtHR and the IACtHR may in principle only elaborate and not depart from or contradict general international law A departure is only acceptable if a clear lex specialis has been established for human rights law The author researches whether or not the sometimes different case law of both human rights courts fits into this assumption Almost all topics of general international law that have been dealt with by the ECtHR and IACtHR are analyzed including reservations application of treaties ratione temporis ratione loci and r Cases and Materials on International Law Martin Dixon, Robert McCorquodale, 1991 This is a fully revised edition that includes recent materials on international economic law such as the responses to the anti globalization protests the regulation of the use of force including actions in Afghanistan the territorial administrations by the UN as in East Timor the increasing developments in international human rights law such as the coming into force of the International Criminal Court and national human rights legislation the clear obligations on States under international environmental law and the role of non state actors in the international community The Polish Yearbook of International Law , 1994 Recueil Des Arrêts Et Décisions European Court of Human Rights, 2004
