Narration, Navigation, and Colonialism Jamal Eddine Benhayoun, 2006 The texts collected in this book are all produced and located within the converging fields of navigation and displacement The connection between navigation and narration becomes clear when we realise that most of the authors and heroes of the accounts discussed by the author were in one way or another involved in shipping and navigation and that their accounts were produced within fluid and floating spaces and in the course of intriguing voyages and long cruises In all cases these narratives start with the narrators on board ships and end with them once again taking charge of their ships and sailing back home In this book the author argues that the seventeenth and eighteenth century English narratives of adventure and captivity were not produced within clearly demarcated territories and on dry land but within spaces of indeterminacy struggle and transition
The Guerrilla Legacy of the Cuban Revolution Anna Clayfield, 2019-05-16 This book examines the way in which the guerrilla origins of the Cuban Revolution have shaped the beliefs and values that have underpinned it since 1959 The book proposes that it is this guerrilla discourse which holds the key to understanding not only the survival of the Revolution itself but the longevity of its leadership

Gender and Politeness Sara Mills, 2003-07-10 Gender and Politeness challenges the notion that women are necessarily always more polite than men as much of the language and gender literature claims Sara Mills discusses the complex relations between gender and politeness and argues that although there are circumstances when women speakers drawing on stereotypes of femininity to guide their behaviour will appear to be acting in a more polite way than men there are many circumstances where women will act just as impolitely as men Gendered Memories, 2021-11-08 How does gender shape memory What role does literature play in cultural remembering These are two of the questions to which the present volume is addressed Even if we agree that remembering is not biologically determined we can assume that memory is influenced by the particular social cultural and historical conditions in which individuals find themselves And since men and women generally assume different social and cultural roles their way of remembering should also differ So do women and men remember different events narrate different stories and narrate or read them in different ways Gendered Memories then not only looks at memory gendered by literature but also wants to know how gender shapes the memory of literature
