Unveiling Empire Wes Howard-Brook, Anthony Gwyther, 1999 Confused by end of the world readings or put off by the dense and mysterious imagery many readers hesitate to explore the Book of Revelation Unveiling Empire offers a new entree into this troubling and controversial book of the Bible by examining the roots and social purposes of apocalyptic literature and Revelations own use of traditional imagery In this way the authors provide readers with the tools for deciphering the texts message and its urgent applications for Christians today living amidst a new kind of empire Go Preach! Brian K. Blount, 1998 Connecting the apocalyptic message of Mark's Gospel to principles and programs of socio cultural transformation in the life of the Black church today Blount begins his study of Mark by examining the social significance of Jesus proclamation of the coming Kingdom of God Through Jesus God's future power broke through to the human present This experience of the Kingdom empowered the disciples to Go preach the Kingdom message in word and deed to finish the story that Mark's narration about Jesus began Blount compares the situation of today's Black church to the situation in which the Gospel arose and explores the implications of apocalyptic theology for the pastoral mission of the Black church He demonstrates the value of a sociolinguistic approach to the scripture both in interpreting the text in its original context and in unpacking its meaning for today Matthew and the Margins Warren Carter, 2000 A controversial take on the Gospel of Matthew applies the text to history and discusses its implications for political power and spirituality Original

Sugirtharajah, 1998 R S Sugirtharajah takes up the theory of postcolonialism as a way of looking at biblical interpretative practices in the Asian context Postcolonialism is a discourse of resistance that tries to write back and work against colonial assumptions and ideologies Long established in cultural studies this is the first work to apply postcolonial theory to biblical interpretation

Sugirtharajah provides examples of how Asian Christians have used both indigenous and western critical methods to liberate the texts and highlights the liberating potential of other sacred texts of Asia to meet the pressing problems of the continent

Braille Book Review ,1982 New York Magazine ,1991-09-23 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Shall We Look for Another? Elaine Mary Wainwright,1998 In this significant step forward in feminist biblical studies Elaine Wainwright develops a feminist hermeneutic of reading scripture Applying that hermeneutic to four key passages from the Gospel of Matthew she shows how an informed reading and hearing of the Gospel stories can lead to a new understanding of Jesus Instead of focusing solely on the role and nature of women in the Bible as many feminist biblical scholars have done Wainwright turns to the person of Jesus in the context of Matthew describing the complex web of Jesus traditions that are represented in both text and context She considers in turn four texts the Gospel prologue Jesus encounter with the Canaanite woman the Petrine confession and the crucifixion and resurrection narratives Wainwright s hermeneutical map considers both historical and literary factors In looking at the context the group of Jewish households or communities at the end of the first century she demonstrates how factors of gender status and ethnicity were as significant then as they are today Wainwright is equally concerned with the role of language especially its polyvalence and its impact on understanding of a given text A particular concern is metaphor such as Jesus as king or hero and how as a metaphor becomes part of the network of everyday understanding it loses its position as metaphor and takes on a new reality Cumulated Index to the Books ,1938 The Writers Directory ,1986 New York Times Saturday Review of Books and Art ,1968 Presents extended reviews of noteworthy books short reviews essays and articles on topics and trends in publishing literature culture and the arts Includes lists of best sellers hardcover and paperback Arts & Humanities Citation Index ,1995 Shakespeare Quarterly ,1950 Provides image and full text online access to back issues Consult the online table of contents for specific holdings
